AZA

American Zoo and Aquarium Association
Connecticut's Beardsley Zoo is proud to be an accredited member of the AZA, dedicated to preserving wild creatures and wild places though conservation, education, research and recreation.

AZA Species Survival Plan®
Many endangered animals in our care may soon be extinct in the wild. Captive breeding programs may be their only hope for survival. When you see this symbol at an exhibit, you know the staff is cooperating with zoos and aquariums throughout North America to breed and manage these animals. If and when the world's natural habitats can be secured or restored, descendants of these animals will repopulate the wild.

Exhibits subject to change.
