
2005 ANNUAL REPORT

Professional Telephone Soliciting for Charity, Police and Firefighter Groups

Edwin R. Rodriguez
Commissioner of Consumer Protection

Richard Blumenthal
Attorney General

November 9, 2006

Connecticut Groups Received $3.78 Million of $10.98 Million Raised in Their Name by Paid Telephone Solicitors

This report highlights Connecticut's 19th annual telephone solicitation survey.

The State's Public Charities Unit, operated jointly by the offices of Attorney General Richard Blumenthal and Consumer Protection Commissioner Edwin R. Rodriguez, compiled the report, which shows that 119 Connecticut organizations hired commercial telemarketing companies to conduct 129 telephone solicitation campaigns during 2005.

Telephone solicitors hired by Connecticut civic, charitable and public safety organizations raised $10.98 million in 2005. This total is slightly higher than last year.

Paid solicitors turned over 34.45 percent – $3.78 million – to charitable groups that hired them, not far below the all-time 2003 record high of 35.52 percent.

The percentage of donations passed on to charitable and public safety organizations had been rising steadily since the State's first annual survey in 1987 until last year's disappointing 3 per cent drop. This year's rebound from 32.8% to 34.45% resumes the upward trend.

A review of the Connecticut campaigns reveals that public safety organizations (police, fire and emergency services) conducted 97 of the 129 campaigns (75.2 percent) during 2005. Overall the groups received a slightly lower percentage of the funds raised, 32.85 percent.

In addition to the 129 campaigns that were conducted in Connecticut only, the survey also includes data on 196 charitable organizations – most out of state - that solicited by telephone in Connecticut as part of multi-state fundraising campaigns. Two hundred and ninety four of these campaigns were conducted in Connecticut. These groups are not required to provide a breakdown of donations by State and therefore figures in this report are national totals.

This year's report contains two additional tables based on data taken from financial reports filed by the charitable organizations. The tables report the annual spending of any organization that reported using a paid solicitor, broken down by program activities, management and general activities, fundraising activities and transfers to affiliated organizations. This information provides a clearer and more complete picture of the organization's overall performance.

The method of reporting multi-year campaigns has been changed in this year's report to better reflect the amounts actually raised during the year. Past reports did not include multi-year campaigns until the year the campaign ended. Beginning this year the amount raised during the year for all multi-year reports is included. A supplement to each table reports the total raised over the entire campaign for multi-year campaigns that ended this year.

The report is based on data

2005 Summary

- $10,981,724 contributed through paid solicitors to Connecticut groups.
 - 34.45 percent of money contributed to Connecticut groups reached the intended beneficiaries.
 - Of the 129 campaigns run by Connecticut groups, 97 were conducted by public safety related organizations such as police and firefighter groups.
 - Additional financial information for organizations appearing in this year's report is included.

from financial reports that paid soliciting firms must file with the Public Charities Unit at the close of each fundraising campaign. The reports disclose the amount contributed, fees and other costs and the total received by the charitable, civic or public safety organization. These organizations must certify the accuracy of these financial reports.

As displayed in the graph below, annual, inflation-adjusted totals raised by Connecticut organizations through paid solicitors have ranged in recent years from $8 million in 2003 to $15 million in 2002. The survey does not factor the value of increased name recognition, public awareness or other non-cash benefits that an organization may receive from a paid solicitation campaign.

Amounts Contributed And Received By Connecticut Organizations Using Paid Solicitors

Below are tips to help the public avoid unscrupulous telephone solicitors, developed by the Better Business Bureau's Wise Giving Alliance – a merger of the National Charities Information Bureau and the Council of Better Business Bureaus' Foundation and its Philanthropic Advisory Service

- DO NOT succumb to pressure to make an immediate gift. A legitimate charity that wants your donation will welcome it just as much tomorrow or next week.
- REPORT harassing calls to your state's attorney general's office and to the Better Business Bureau in your area.
- DO NOT give your credit card number, bank account number, or other personal financial information to unknown solicitors. If you want to contribute, mail a check to the organization's address after checking out the charity.
- DO NOT hesitate to seek out additional facts. If you receive a telephone appeal from an unfamiliar charity, ask the solicitor to mail you information on the charity's programs, finances, and/or a copy of their latest financial statements.
- ASK HOW MUCH THE CHARITY SPENT ON FUND RAISING IN THE PAST YEAR as a portion of total contributions received. The Alliance recognizes that the cost of an individual fund raising campaign using the telephone may exceed donor expectations for the use of funds. On an annual basis, however, the voluntary Alliance charity standards recommend that total fund raising costs should not exceed 35% of total related contributions.

6. WATCH OUT FOR NAME SIMILARITY. In view of the volume of charities (more than 850,000 organizations have received charitable tax exempt status from the IRS), there are many organizations raising money for the same cause. Unfortunately, some names are used as to confuse potential donors and sound similar to well-known organizations.
7. IF A POLICE OR FIREFIGHTER ORGANIZATION is using the telephone to solicit funds, ask what type of organization is soliciting (e.g., charity, fraternal group or union), if any local police officers or firefighters are involved, and what specific program(s) will the donation support? For additional advice on police and firefighter organizations, go to www.give.org/tips/policefire.asp

8. CHECK OUT THE CHARITY with the BBB Wise Giving Alliance (www.give.org) to find out if a national charity meets the 20 voluntary Alliance charity standards, with the local Better Business Bureau (www.bbb.org), if the inquiry is about a Connecticut charity, and with your state's charity registration office (usually a division of the state attorney general's office). Charity Information Resource Guide

There is additional information available to help you be a discerning donor:

There are more than 8,500 organizations on file with the Public Charities Unit able to solicit funds in Connecticut. They include charitable, civic, police and firefighter groups. About 4,100 of these organizations are required to file financial reports annually. Religious organizations, hospitals, educational institutions, government-affiliated organizations and organizations that normally raise less than $50,000 per year are not required to file financial reports. The report contains information on income and expenses and a brief description of the organization's programs. The Public Charities Unit prepares a summary of each financial report. To obtain a summary of the financial report or a copy of a complete financial report for a particular organization, write or call:

Explanation of columns:

Report Filed For One Year Period Ending:

This column displays the ending date of the one year period for which the organization has filed a financial report. The report filed is a summary of all the financial activities of the organization for a one year period. Due to an amendment of the Connecticut Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act effective October 1, 2005, not all organizations have been required to file a financial report at this time. In addition, some organizations may be eligible to file a less comprehensive report. Some organizations may be exempt from filing financial reports.

Total Expenses Reported:

This column displays the total expense reported by the organization for the one year period indicated.

Reported Program Expense As A Percent Of Total Expenses:

This column displays the percentage of the organization's total expense which it reported spending on program activities. Program activities are those activities which the organization undertook to provide its charitable or public service purpose.

Reported Management Expense As A Percent Of Total Expense:

This column displays the percentage of the organization's total expense which it reported spending on its overall management or the general running of the organization rather than on any direct program activity.

Reported Fundraising Expense As A Percent Of Total Expense:

This column displays the percentage of the organization's total expense which it reported spending on soliciting contributions, gifts or grants, including the amount paid to paid solicitors.

Reported Transfers To Affiliated Organizations As A Percent Of Total Expense:

This column displays the percentage of the organization's total expenses which it reported paying to other affiliated organizations that are closely related to the organization.
