These draft Recommendations are part of the 2010 Long-Term Care Plan for Connecticut. They are informed by the findings of the Connecticut Long-Term Care Needs Assessment conducted by the University of Connecticut Center on Aging (2007) and many of the recommendations made in the Needs Assessment have been adopted in this Plan. The Plan is updated every three years and is designed to address the current and future needs of all individuals in need of long-term care, regardless of disability or age. The Long-Term Care Planning Committee, in collaboration with the Long-Term Care Advisory Council, is developing the Plan, which will be presented to the Connecticut General Assembly in January 2010.
