10 – Wireless Priority Service (WPS) Access

Wireless Priority Service (WPS) is a wireless network solution that will allow Verizon Wireless the ability to assign priority levels to certain government and industry subscribers who have been preauthorized by the National Communication System (NCS) division of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS).

Wireless Priority Service will enable users the ability to improve their probability of call completion during wireless network congestion in periods of National Security and Emergency Preparedness (NS/EP).

Wireless Priority Service Access (WPS Access) is subject to the calling plan and feature details of the State of Connecticut Service Agreement and calling plan. WPS Access operates on a limited portion of the Verizon Wireless owned and operated 800/1900 MHz CDMA network, and is available only to individuals authorized by the Office of the Manager National Communications System (NCS). WPS Access provides end users with the ability to be placed into a queue for the next available wireless voice channel ahead of end users not subscribing to WPS Access. Verizon Wireless makes no assurances regarding waiting times associated with WPS, nor can Verizon Wireless ensure that WPS Access calls will be connected.

The NCS will authorize the subscriber for an assignment of one (1) of five (5) priority levels based upon your National Security and Emergency Preparedness role. The priority levels are defined as follows, with priority one (1) being the highest level:

- 1. Executive Leadership and Policy Makers
- 2. Disaster Response/Military Command and Control
- 3. Public Health, Safety and Law Enforcement Command
- 4. Public Services/Utilities and Public Welfare
- 5. Disaster Recovery

Verizon Wireless does not have any input into your government authorization to receive WPS, nor do we determine your priority level assignments. For further information, visit <http://wps.ncs.gov>.

The Wireless Priority Service (WPS) Access monthly fees are not eligible for any access or revenue discount programs or promotions.

SERVICE LEVELS:

Verizon Wireless will allow Customer's Subscribers pursuant to an existing Agreement ("Grandfathered Agreement") for which the Customer is responsible for all payment to continue receiving such pricing upon terms and conditions set forth in such Agreement until these Subscribers either migrate to an applicable pricing plan under this Agreement or terminate pursuant to the terms of the Grandfathered Agreement. However, any monthly access or revenue discounts currently offered under such Agreements shall be discontinued upon the execution of this Agreement. Additionally, Customer Subscribers remaining on the Grandfathered price plans will not be able to make Equipment upgrades. Customer agrees that any and all new Corporate Subscribers or Corporate Liability Subscribers whose Grandfathered Agreements have expired shall activate or migrate to an applicable pricing plan under this Agreement exclusively. Corporate Subscriber lines on local and regional pricing plans will count toward the minimum line attainment tier and select non-promotional local and regional calling plans will continue to receive the associated applicable monthly access fee discount. However, Corporate Subscribers lines under such Grandfathered Agreements will not be eligible to participate in any access or usage discounts or other benefits available under this Agreement until such Subscribers migrate to an applicable pricing plan available under this current Agreement.

Cellular Long Distance: Other than for select price plans herein, cellular long distance charges may apply to all calls originating within an applicable cellular local calling area to areas outside the area. These charges are in addition to home airtime charges as shown in this Product Schedule. Cellular local calling areas are defined by Verizon Wireless and are subject to change. Customer's home airtime rate area may, or may not, differ from the applicable cellular local calling area for long distance calls.

Usage Charges Are Cumulative: Except as otherwise provided herein, for any single call there may be usage charges for any or all of the following: (a) airtime; (b) landline, cellular long distance, regional calling, or toll charges; (c) roaming; (d) applicable taxes; (e) applicable surcharges, assessments, government fees; and (f) enhanced or special services (such as time, weather, operator or directory assistance, call dialing, calling card use, call forwarding, and automatic call delivery). When roaming, some or all of these charges may be set by another company.

Usage Time: Usage time for calls that connect to the system starts when the Subscriber first presses "SEND" on a cellular phone. Usage time ends several seconds after the Subscriber presses "END", or after the call otherwise disconnects from the system. In certain Verizon Wireless' Midwest Areas, you may be billed at normal airtime rates for calls that ring for 60 seconds or more, even if such calls are busy or unanswered. Unanswered or busy calls to certain fax machines or data modems may incur charges, even though it may sound as if the call was unanswered.

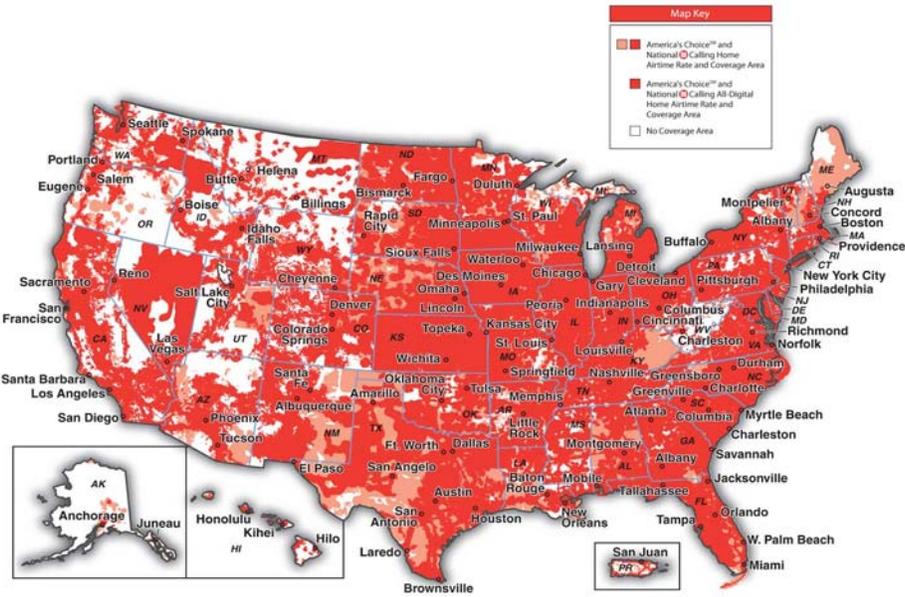

Interrupted Service: If a Subscriber is in the home airtime rate area and due to interference with radio transmission a call is dropped and redialed within five (5) minutes of the disconnection, Verizon Wireless will provide Customer, upon request, with a one (1) minute airtime credit for such calls. To get such credits, Customer must notify Verizon Wireless within 90 days after the call is disconnected. Customer may notify Verizon Wireless by calling an airtime free 800 number that will be provided to Customer. If Customer's service is unavailable in Verizon Wireless' service area for more than 24 continuous hours due to Verizon Wireless' fault, Verizon Wireless will also give Customer a pro rata daily credit, up to as much as the affected cellular line's monthly access charge, for that period. Customer must notify Verizon Wireless within ninety (90) days after the first bill that covers the time when the interruption started to receive the credit.

Stolen or Tampered Cellular Phone Equipment: If a Corporate Subscriber's cellular phone is stolen or is tampered with, Customer shall notify Verizon Wireless and provide Verizon Wireless with any documentation (such as a police report) that may be requested. After receiving Customer's notification, Verizon Wireless will suspend service for up to 30 days from receipt of Customer's notice, or until Customer replaces or recovers the cell phone, whichever comes first. The time of any suspension won't count toward satisfying the initial term of the cellular line. Until notification is received, Customer will be responsible for all charges to the telephone number.

Fraud: To maintain or improve cellular service, to prevent fraud, if Verizon Wireless believes Customer's service is being misused or used by anyone for unlawful activity; or if Verizon Wireless believes a Customer's cell phone or telephone number has been stolen or tampered with, Verizon Wireless will restrict the service of such line and notify Customer of its actions.
