THE GIPSY MOTH QUARANTINE.

W. E. BRITTON, State Entomologist.

The Federal Horticultural Board has recently revised the Federal quarantine (effective July 1, 1924) on account of the gipsy moth, to include the Connecticut towns of Cornwall, North Haven, Branford, North Branford, Guilford, Madison, Clinton, Killingworth, Durham, Haddam, East Haddam, Lyme, Chester, Saybrook, Westbrook, Essex and Old Saybrook, not included in the Federal quarantine of 1923. As the State quarantine had not been revised since 1922 (see quarantine Order No. 4), it seemed advisable to make it correspond with the Federal quarantine. Consequently after due notice as provided in Section 2106 of the General Statutes, a hearing was held at Hartford on July 9, 1924, and the subject fully discussed. There was no opposition expressed and the following quarantine order was issued:
