PROGRAMS THAT HELP
PEOPLE IN CONNECTICUT
A guide for agencies

2006-2008 Edition
Programs That Help People in Connecticut is an overview of federal, state, and local programs that provide assistance to Connecticut residents. The Connecticut Association for Human Services (CAHS) verified and updated the information in this booklet and Connecticut Light and Power (CL&P) provided the printing and publishing. We thank everyone who supplied information for this 2006-2008 edition.

THIS BOOKLET SHOULD BE USED AS A GUIDE as it contains only brief descriptions of complex programs whose guidelines, eligibility levels, and funding are subject to change. Since this booklet is printed every other year, IT IS IMPORTANT TO CHECK WITH THE ADMINISTERING AGENCY FOR CURRENT INFORMATION.

If you think that you or your client may be eligible for any programs described herein, we urge you to apply. For further information on these and other local public and private programs, contact Infoline at 2-1-1, or your municipal Social Service Agency. Many towns have a Youth Service Bureau to help young people and a Municipal Agent on aging to help senior citizens.

Many services have income and asset (resources) eligibility guidelines. Generally, income is money available to you from an ongoing source. The definition of assets varies from program to program, but generally includes bank accounts, stocks, bonds, and sometimes a car or a legal interest in a house. You should check with the agency that administers the program for more details.

This booklet is divided into sections, each covering assistance for a specific area. Some of the sections contain subheadings for faster reference. The Table of Contents lists all of the subheadings, and the Index in the back of the booklet lists all agencies, programs and some subcategories. After certain program entries, references are given for other sections that might also have information of interest on the subject.

NOTE: We would like to hear from you. Please let us know if any services should be added, deleted or revised. Additional copies are available from Connecticut Light and Power (CL&P), or use the order form in the pocket at the back of the booklet. Please direct comments to:

The Connecticut Association for Human Services (CAHS) is a private, nonprofit organization that works with service providers, public officials, and others to ensure that 1) all children and families have the resources and public policy support to become economically successful, and 2) those who cannot achieve self-sufficiency have access to basic needs. See the Advocacy section in this booklet for a complete description of CAHS.

2-1-1 Infoline

2-1-1 is the statewide information, referral, and crisis intervention service. It is a public/private partnership between the State of Connecticut and the United Way of Connecticut. 2-1-1 specialists are backed by community representatives and an extensive computerized database of human services. They provide up-to-date information about agencies and programs; make referrals to appropriate community resources; and intervene in crises, including suicide prevention. Extensive information is available on child care, alcohol and drug treatment, elder services, maternal and child health, Medicare Part D, problem gambling, and many more helpful services and programs. Calls are free and confidential. 2-1-1 may be accessed 24 hours a day. TDD (Telecommunications Devices for the Deaf) and multi-lingual staff are also available. A database of statewide health and human services is available on-line. Address: 1344 Silas Deane Highway, Rocky Hill, CT 06067. Office Telephone: (860) 571-7500. Website: 211infoline.org.
Basic Needs

Food

Food may be obtained from Food Pantries for use in a household setting or at Soup Kitchens where food is prepared and may be eaten on the premises. Both types of facilities exist throughout the state. They may have eligibility or referral requirements and hours of operation vary widely. To obtain the most current information on local emergency food assistance, call Infoline at 2-1-1.

Connecticut Association for Human Services (CAHS)

CAHS provides food stamp outreach in western, southern, and central Connecticut, including Hartford and periodically updates a statewide guide on How to Get Food in Connecticut. Outreach workers are available to conduct eligibility prescreening events, public information sessions, and trainings for social service providers. CAHS staff promotes increased awareness of several federally funded nutrition programs such as WIC, school-year, and summer meals. They are available to assist in locating potential sites and sponsors for these programs. Outreach staff also delivers information about other public benefits that meet the basic needs of lower-income families. Increasingly, trainings on financial management and building assets for economic security are offered in conjunction with outreach activities. For more information, or to schedule an outreach event, contact CAHS. Address: 110 Bartholomew Avenue, Suite 4030, Hartford, CT 06106-2201. Telephone: (860) 951-2212 x 236. E-mail: info@cahs.org Website: cahs.org.

End Hunger CT!

End Hunger CT! Inc. is a statewide anti-hunger and food security, advocacy organization dedicated to ending hunger and promoting healthy nutrition in Connecticut. Goals include raising awareness of hunger in the state of Connecticut, promoting access to federal nutrition assistance programs and speaking out to eliminate the root causes of hunger. End Hunger CT! provides food stamp outreach in Hartford, New London, Tolland, and Windham counties. Outreach workers assist clients with prescreening for food stamps and conduct workshops and presentations with clients or staff. End Hunger CT! also provides an online Food Stamp Calculator that determines potential eligibility and offers application information at www.foodstampsct.org. Child nutrition services include Summer Food Service Program participation grants and School Breakfast Program research, outreach and education. If you have a question about a federal nutrition program or want to learn how to advocate for food and nutrition in the state, call End Hunger CT!. Address: 102 Hungerford Street, Hartford, CT 06106. Telephone: (860) 560-2100. E-mail: endhungerct@endhungerct.org Website: endhungerct.org.

Food Stamps

The state Department of Social Services (DSS) administers the United States Department of Agriculture’s Food Stamp Program. DSS also administers a State-Funded Food Stamp program for people who are not eligible for the federal program solely due to their status as non-citizens. The purpose of both programs is to help low-income people buy food.

Eligibility depends on the income and resources of a household. A household is a group of people who live together and buy and prepare food together. Eligibility limits are more liberal for people who are disabled or 60 years and older, and the households that include them. The amount of Food Stamps for an eligible household depends on the number of people in it, and on how much monthly income is left after certain expenses are subtracted. Some examples of these expenses are deductions for excess shelter costs and medical deductions for elderly and disabled people.

People can apply for Food Stamps at the DSS office located nearest the town where they live. People who cannot get to an office can apply for Food Stamps by mail, or authorize a responsible adult to represent them. People who receive SSI can also apply for Food Stamps at the Social Security office located nearest their home. The DSS office must act on applications within 30 days of the date a person signs an application. Eligible households will have benefits in their EBT account within four days of the date that DSS grants their application. Some people are eligible for an expedited review and could get Food Stamps within seven days of the date they apply.

For more information about the Food Stamp Program call DSS Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-842-1508, End Hunger CT! Telephone: (860) 560-2100 or Connecticut Association for Human Services Telephone: (860) 951-2212 x 236. See list of local DSS offices under Multiservice Agencies in this book.

School Lunch, Breakfast and After-School Snacks

Federal and state governments subsidize the school meals programs for all children in schools that participate. Eligibility for free or reduced-price meals is based on family income and size. Food stamp recipients are automatically qualified for free school meals. Children can be enrolled throughout the school year. For more detailed information, call the Department of Education, Child Nutrition Programs at Telephone: (860) 807-2070. Individuals with children in non-participating schools can get help in organizing a school breakfast program by contacting End Hunger CT! Telephone: (860) 560-2100 or Connecticut Association for Human Services Telephone: (860) 951-2212 x 236.

Summer Breakfast and Lunch for Children

Children under the age of 19 are eligible for free meals during the summer months through participating towns and organizations. There are no forms or income tests. For participating locations, call the Department of Education, Child Nutrition Programs Telephone: (860) 807-2070; Infoline: 2-1-1; End Hunger CT! Telephone: (860) 560-2100; or Connecticut Association for Human Services Telephone: (860) 951-2212 x 236.

Child and Adult Care Food Program

This program is designed to ensure nutritious meals for children up to age 12, the elderly, and people with disabilities who participate in a non-profit, licensed, or approved day care program. Children up to the age of 18 in emergency homeless shelters may also participate. Eligible providers are reimbursed all or part of the money by the Department of Education for meals and snacks served to the children or adults in their care. Any child or adult attending a participating institution is entitled to meals. Programs eligible for participation include nonresidential child or adult care institutions such as group or family day care; Head Start; recreation centers; settlement houses; after-school programs; and emergency homeless shelters for families with children.

*Spanish speaking staff available.
To find out if an institution participates in the program, or is eligible to do so; or to learn more about how a provider applies for meal reimbursements, Contact: Connecticut Department of Education, Child Nutrition Programs. Address: 25 Industrial Park Road, Middletown, CT 06457-1543. Telephone: (860) 807-2074. E-mail: susan.boyle@ct.gov. Website: ct.gov/sde.

Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP)

EFNEP is a specially funded program of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the UConn Cooperative Extension System. Its purpose is to teach families and youth with limited resources about food shopping skills, nutritious meal planning and preparation, and safe food storage and handling. These activities are aimed at lowering the risk of infant mortality, low-birthweight babies, and chronic diseases, as well as enhancing a child’s ability to learn and optimizing the diet quality when resources are limited. Education is primarily conducted on-site at community agencies; but individual counseling can sometimes be arranged. Local EFNEP programs are listed below. Information is also available through Cooperative Extension Centers across the state, which can be found at Website: canr.uconn.edu/nusci/outrch.

Serve New England Food Cooperative (SERVE)

SERVE is a nonprofit food cooperative that offers monthly distributions of meats, produce and other grocery items at 30 – 50% discounts. SERVE operates 250 host sites – typically churches, senior centers, civic facilities or any accessible place where people gather – throughout New England, which are open to all persons regardless of age, race or income level. To qualify, participants are required to complete two hours of volunteer service a month in their own communities. All food purchased through SERVE is top quality and obtained through local distributors when available. Content varies from month to month, but a typical family meal package consists of four meat selections, eight or nine produce items and staple products such as rice, peanut butter and more – all for only $20. Orders are due the first week of each month, and delivery is made on the third or fourth Saturday of each month. Orders may be placed through a local chapter, by phone or online. Payment is made by cash, credit or electronic bank transfer. To find a SERVE location near you or for more information: Toll-free Telephone: 1-888-742-7363. Address: 145 Bodwell Street, Avon, MA 02322. E-mail: aadams@servewenengland.org. Website: servewenengland.org.

Nutrition for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC)

WIC is a federally-funded food and nutrition education program for pregnant, postpartum and breastfeeding women and their children up to the age of five. WIC provides nutrition information and healthy food such as, eggs, milk, beans, cheese, juice, cereal, peanut butter and infant formula. Information on breastfeeding and healthy eating are provided as well as Farmers’ Market coupons for designated months. Administered by the Department of Public Health (DPH), WIC is designed as a preventive health measure for its participants. Eligibility is based on income; residency; certification of nutritional risk; and a physical presence requirement, which means having a WIC employee see your child.

Applications are accepted at local WIC offices listed below or Contact: State WIC office. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-741-2142. Telephone: (860) 509-8084.

Congregate Meals and Home Meal Delivery

Federally-funded food programs help improve the health of the elderly by providing nutritionally balanced meals and reducing the isolation of many older people. Community-based Elderly Nutrition Projects, listed below, administer the programs. Information on meals for the elderly can often be obtained from local senior centers or newspapers.

The Senior Nutrition Program is for homebound elders unable to travel to local meal sites. Meals are prepared and delivered to the home. No fee is charged for the meals, but participants are encouraged to contribute toward the cost of the meals according to their means. All donations are used to provide additional meals and services. For more information, call the nearest Elderly Nutrition Project listed below. There are also private Meals on Wheels programs that do charge a fee. They can be reached by calling Infoline: 2-1-1.

The Congregate Meals Program provides at least one hot meal a day, five days a week, regardless of income. No fee is charged, although contributions are encouraged. Meals are served in the community at senior centers, churches, and elderly housing projects. In some cases, kosher and ethnic meals are available, and often transportation can be arranged for those who cannot walk to the nearest site. Reservations are normally required a day or two in advance. People 60 years of age and older and their spouses are eligible, as well as handicapped or disabled individuals who reside in housing facilities at which congregate nutrition services are provided. For more information about the program and to make reservations, contact the nearest Elderly Nutrition Project listed below.

Housing

Housing Education Resource Center (HERC)

HERC provides housing information and resources to tenants, landlords, homeowners, agencies, and others. HERC programs include Landlord/Tenant Information and Counseling, which offers seminars, workshops, publications and in-service training on specific housing and landlord/tenant topics. HERC operates a telephone counseling line that primarily addresses tenant/landlord rights and responsibilities, in conjunction with other housing-related issues. In partnership with Connecticut Department of Social Services (DSS), HERC assists DSS rental subsidy recipients with their housing needs. Services focus on preparing clients for all phases of their housing search and helping them to secure housing in lower poverty-impacted areas. Services include: Tenant Education Classes; Community Familiarization; Housing Search Assistance; Literature and Referrals; Lease and Landlord/Tenant Negotiation Assistance.

Address: 901 Wethersfield Avenue, Hartford, CT 06114. Telephone: (860) 296-4242. Housing Counseling Line (Tuesday and Friday, 9 a.m. – 5 p.m.): (860) 296-4372.

Connecticut Department of Social Services (DSS)

Eviction Prevention Program: This program assists low- and moderate-income residents at risk of becoming homeless or losing their homes due to inability to pay their rent or mortgage. The program also works to prevent litigation, eviction, or foreclosure through assessment, community-based mediation, conflict resolution, and the use of a rent bank.

Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher Program: This federally funded program assists low-income families in obtaining housing and provides direct rental subsidies to property owners. These subsidies fill the gap between what a renter can afford to pay and the rent charged by the landlord. Housing subsidized under this program must meet federal minimum housing quality standards of safety and sanitation. Rental assistance may be used in existing housing, newly constructed units, and in moderately or substantially rehabilitated units.

Security Deposit Assistance: This program helps two groups of income-eligible persons afford to move into rental housing. The first includes persons who hold a Section 8 voucher or state rent subsidy (RAP, T-RAP) certificate newly issued while the applicant was on a housing authority waiting list. The second includes homeless individuals and families. Qualifying emergency situations include: homelessness; living in a domestic violence shelter, motel or hotel, or temporary residence with friends or relatives during the homeless crisis; eviction; and, release from a hospital, prison or other institution. Applicants on public assistance or those who meet the income limits and other criteria may be eligible for the equivalent of up to two-month’s rent in the form of a security deposit guarantee.

State Rental Assistance Program (RAP): This program provides rent subsidies for low-income households. For families, RAP pays the difference between the gross rent and 40% of adjusted gross monthly income. For the elderly and disabled, RAP pays the difference between the gross rent and 30% of the adjusted gross monthly income.

Transitionary Rental Assistance Program (T-RAP): This program provides rental assistance for a maximum of one year to families who are making the transition off Temporary Family Assistance (TFA). An adult family member must have income from employment which exceeds the TFA payment standard or an adult member of the household who works at least twelve hours per week. A family must not already be receiving a rental subsidy and applications must be submitted within six months of leaving TFA.

DSS Rental Programs Telephone: (860) 424-5578

Home Sharing Programs

The Department of Social Services funds three programs that provide interested individuals with an opportunity to “home share.” Home Sharing is an arrangement between two parties in which one shares his or her home with another in exchange for a financial contribution to household expenses, services, companionship, or some combination. Home Share programs match single adults (at least one must be over age 60) who are having difficulty maintaining their homes because of financial, social, or physical needs, with other adults who need decent, affordable housing and/or do not want to live alone. Staff of the Home Share program interview potential home sharers and home seekers to identify those with complementary needs. Program participants must provide references and background information, which are screened and checked by program staff. The staff introduces individuals found to be compatible, helps them develop a home sharing agreement, offers follow-up counseling if a match is made, and/or refers persons to other appropriate services when necessary. Connecticut’s programs are listed below.

Tax Relief for Renters

A person renting a room or an apartment, living in cooperative housing or a mobile home may be eligible for a partial refund of rent/utility (excluding telephone) bills if renter or spouse is age 65 or over; or is the widow/widower, age 50 or over, of a previously approved applicant; or if the renter is totally disabled and receiving benefits under a federal, state or local retirement or disability plan which contains requirements.
Comparative to those of the Social Security Administration. Applications must be filed annually with the local assessor/town agent between May 15 and September 15.

U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD)

HUD’s mission is to increase homeownership, support community development and increase access to affordable housing free from discrimination. The most popular programs are Rental Assistance through Housing Choice Vouchers; Low-Income Public Housing; and Elderly and Disabled Housing. Information is available from the following agencies: the public housing authority or housing department in each town or city; the Department of Economic and Community Development (DECD); (860) 270-8000; the Department of Social Services (DSS), (860) 424-5031; the Connecticut Housing Finance Authority (CHFA), (860) 721-9501; or the individual management agents for the approximately 300 privately owned apartment developments subsidized by HUD. These are listed in the booklet Looking for HUD-Assisted Rental Housing in Connecticut, which can be obtained from the HUD office. The HUD website also contains a contact list of HUD-approved home buyer/renter counseling agencies across the state. Address: One Corporate Center, 20 Church Street, 19th Floor, Hartford, CT 06103. Telephone: (860) 240-4800. TTY: (860) 240-4665. Website: hud.gov.

Energy and Fuel Assistance

Help paying home fuel and energy costs is available from Connecticut’s public utility companies. An Energy Assistance Guide is located in the pocket at the back this book. See also Multiple Service Agencies and Community Action Agencies in this book.

Income Assistance

State Supplement for the Aged, Blind or Disabled (State Supplement)

The State Supplement program is a state income maintenance program administered by Department of Social Services to supplement assistance under the federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program. Actual receipt of federal SSI is not required. For example, recipients of a low monthly Social Security benefit, private pension, Veteran’s benefit, or limited income from another source may still qualify for the State Supplement. The benefit is based on a standard calculation of total need compared to the applicant’s income. Income must not exceed total need. The difference between the income (with certain deductions) and expenses is the amount of the State Supplement. Monthly payments are issued by check or electronically to a bank account. Applicants must be age 65 and older, or at least 18 years old if disabled or blind. People receiving State Supplement also receive Medicaid to cover medical expenses. In addition, many recipients will also be eligible for food stamps and energy assistance. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-842-1508.

Temporary Family Assistance (TFA)

TFA is a cash assistance program that provides basic human needs to families. It helps single- and two-parent families, and relatives who have the responsibility of caring for children under the age of 19. Many families eligible for TFA are also eligible for food stamps, medical assistance, and energy assistance.

TFA is limited to 21 months; however, some families may be exempt from the time limit. Other families will be subject to the 21-month time limit and will be required to look for and find work. Extensions to the 21-month limit can be granted in 6-month increments for families that have made good faith efforts to find work. There are rules limiting the number of such extensions and an overall 60-month limit for families who are not exempt. The amount of assistance is determined by the number of people in the assistance unit, the amount of their income, and the particular town of residence. The typical benefit for a family of three is $543.

TFA payments can also be made on behalf of children even if no eligible adult resides in the household. For example, a grandparent may be able to get TFA payment for the children even though the grandparent does not meet the eligibility requirements. A pregnant woman who does not have other minor children is also eligible for financial assistance. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-842-1508.

State-Administered General Assistance (SAGA)

The SAGA program, administered by the State Department of Social Services (DSS), provides cash and medical assistance to eligible individuals and families in Connecticut who do not have enough money to meet their basic needs and are unable to work. Employable individuals are not eligible for SAGA cash assistance but may qualify for SAGA medical assistance. Decisions for cash assistance are made in ten days. Decisions for medical assistance may take up to 45 days. Cash and medical emergencies can be processed in four days. Food and medical vouchers can be issued on an emergency basis.

Unemployable individuals receive up to $200 per month. Transitional individuals who are unable to work for at least two months receive between $50 and $200 per month, depending upon housing costs. Individuals receive a payment based on size, the type of housing in which they live, and the region of the state where they reside. There are additional eligibility rules. SAGA applicants and recipients must participate in digital imaging (fingerprinting), pursue other available benefits or resources that may meet their financial or medical needs, agree to a lien on their home if they own one, and participate in substance abuse treatment if they have a problem with alcohol or drugs. A personal appointment is not necessary if only applying for SAGA medical assistance. Call any of the DSS offices to request an application. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-842-1508.

Unemployment Insurance

Unemployment Insurance is a joint federal-state program providing benefits for eligible workers who qualify under Connecticut’s law. Administered by the state Department of Labor (DOL), Unemployment Insurance benefits are paid when certain legal conditions are met.

Eligibility: Claimants must have earned covered wages during a certain period of time prior to becoming unemployed. In addition, claimants must be involuntarily unemployed, but able to work, available for full-time employment, actively seeking a job and willing to accept suitable work. Partial benefits may also be paid to a worker with less than full-time employment. A person who moves out of state may also file an interstate claim. Individuals are disqualified for leaving suitable work voluntarily and without good cause attributable to the employer; being discharged for willful misconduct during the course of employment or felonious conduct; theft of property or service worth more than $25, or theft of money in any amount; participating in an illegal strike; or refusing to apply for or accept suitable work without sufficient cause.
Benefits: The benefit rate varies from person to person and is roughly 50% of the individual’s average gross weekly pay up to the maximum benefit rate, which, by law, changes periodically. The current maximum is $465 per week. Claimants may also qualify for an additional allowance of $15 per dependent per week with a maximum of five dependents or 100% of the weekly benefit rate. A non-working spouse may qualify as a dependent under certain conditions. Benefits are paid for up to 26 weeks (26 times the weekly benefit rate); however, a high unemployment rate can trigger additional emergency benefits.

Application: Applying for Unemployment Benefits is now done by telephone or by Internet. If using the Internet, visit the Connecticut Department of Labor Website at ct.gov/dol and select “File Your New Claim, Weekly Claim, or Claim Inquiry.” If filing by telephone, a series of local telephone numbers listed below connects callers to the automated system. Once the automated portion is done, callers are connected to a Customer Service Representative to complete a claim.

Persons calling from the following seven exchanges — Kent, North Thompson, Salisbury, Sharon, Stafford Springs, Westport and Wilton — can call toll-free 1-800-354-3305. This number is only for these seven exchanges and is not accessible statewide. Callers living out of state can call DOL’s toll-free interstate office: 1-800-942-6653. Deaf or hearing-impaired callers (TDD/TTY users) may reach TeleBenefits by calling Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-842-9710. Individuals who have difficulty using a phone can visit the nearest Connecticut Department of Labor/CT Works. All offices are accessible to people with disabilities. Social Security Old Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance (OASDI)

Social Security, also called OASDI is a federal program for the retired and disabled, as well as survivors of a deceased wage earner. People who have worked enough quarters and have paid into the program are eligible; there are no income or asset requirements. People who are at least 62 and retired, the disabled at any age, or qualified dependents or survivors of the insured, are eligible for benefits. Individuals can begin collecting full retirement benefits when reaching age 65. For people born 1938 and later, the full retirement age will gradually increase to age 67; these people can still collect reduced benefits at age 62.

Survivors’ benefits are paid to a spouse with minor children, a widow or widower age 60 or older, a widow or widower age 50 or older and disabled, minor children, or a parent age 62 or older who was dependent on the wage earner. Disability benefits can be paid to people who are unable to engage in substantial gainful activity or whose disability will result in death.

There are earnings limitations after which one is not considered retired, dependent, or disabled. In the year 2006, people under 65 years and 4 months can earn $12,480. After earning that amount, the benefit is reduced $1 for every $2 of earnings above the limit. Legislation in 2000 eliminated the annual earnings limit for people who attain full retirement age (ages 65-67 depending on the year of birth). People who attain full retirement age in 2006 (65 years and 4 months) can earn $33,240 up to the month they attain full retirement age. The benefit is reduced by $1 for each $3 of earnings above that limit. People age 70 and older can earn any amount without a reduction in their benefits. For persons collecting disability benefits, earnings will affect benefits in a different way.

Most business can be conducted on the phone by calling the national toll-free number or the local office listed below. Address: Social Security Administration, 960 Main St. 2nd Floor, Hartford, CT 06103. National Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-772-1213. Telephone: (860) 493-1857. Website: ssa.gov.

Supplemental Security Income (SSI)

SSI is a federal income maintenance program for the aged, blind, and disabled. Unlike Social Security, SSI has limits on the amount of money and resources a recipient can have. Recipients may receive both Social Security and SSI, if eligible for both. Flat monthly payments are issued to participants; the 2006 benefit level is $603 for one person, $904 for a couple. If the participant lives in a household which provides in-kind support e.g. food and/or lodging, the monthly payment is reduced by one-third. Eligibility is based on age, blindness, disability, income and assets. See Social Security in this book.

Crisis and Emergency Management

2-1-1 Infoline

Free 24-hour information, referral, crisis intervention services, problem solving, and more helpful services and programs. Calls are free and confidential. TDD (Telecommunications Devices for the Deaf) and multilingual staff are also available. Website: 211infoline.org. Toll-free infoline: 2-1-1.

*Spanish speaking staff available.
Suicide Prevention and Intervention 2-1-1

Infoline’s 24-hour suicide prevention and intervention service links individuals in crisis with appropriate community resources. In addition, staff members train youth groups and community service providers in preventing suicide prevention skills. 2-1-1 Infoline holds certification from the American Association of Suicidology. Telephone Hotline: 2-1-1.

Runaway and Troubled Youth and Their Families

The Department of Children and Families (DCF), Child Guidance Clinics, Family Service Agencies, community-based youth shelters, and crisis intervention programs all provide counseling assistance to youth and their families. Local Youth Service Bureaus offer peer counseling, employment-related services and in some instances, shelter services as part of their delinquency prevention program. For information 24 hours-a-day about locally available shelters or host homes for youth who cannot remain at home, call Infoline at 2-1-1, or the Child Abuse and Neglect Toll-free Hotline at 1-800-842-2288. A nationwide hotline provides message relay services for runaways and their parents. The runaway must contact the service and his/her location is held confidential. Call the National Runaway Switchboard Toll-free Hotline: 1-800-621-4000. Also see Children, Youth and Families, Youth Service Bureaus, Family Service Agencies, and Department of Children and Families in this book.

Health Emergencies

Local hospitals, listed under Hospitals in the Yellow Pages of the telephone directory, and Community Health Centers should be called or visited in the event of a health emergency. Although emergency rooms are always open, other facilities such as a local detoxification or psychiatric treatment center may be more appropriate. Health facilities will ask for evidence of medical coverage such as a health insurance card or Medicaid card. Those who do not have coverage and cannot afford to pay for care should inquire about eligibility for free services under the Hill Burton Act. If the medical event is life threatening, contact 911. Also see Health Care Services in this book.

Connecticut Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services (DMHAS)

For individuals experiencing a psychiatric crisis, help is available throughout the state at crisis intervention centers that provide immediate assessment and treatment and then link individuals to appropriate continuing treatment and support services. Crisis phone lines, on-site crisis intervention staff, and crisis and respite beds are available at the following locations:

Emergency Shelter Services

Emergency shelters provide the minimum necessities of life to individuals and families on a limited basis during a period of dislocation, crisis or emergency. Services which are available without regard to income may be restricted to particular ages, sex, population groups or referring agency. The Department of Social Services funds a number of emergency shelters that support individuals and families who have become homeless due to a variety of causes such as fire, eviction, unemployment and/or natural disaster. Emergency Shelter Services may include initial food and shelter, housing assistance, counseling, information and referral, crisis intervention and assistance with hygiene. Transitional Living Programs help facilitate the movement of homeless people into decent housing and stable living environment. Local emergency shelters are listed below. For general information call Telephone (860) 424-5875.

School-Based Health Centers (SBHC’s)

SBHC’s are comprehensive primary health care facilities located within or on the grounds of schools. SBHC’s are licensed as outpatient facilities or hospital satellite clinics that offer primary preventive health and mental health services for students in grades Pre-K through 12. SBHC’s are staffed by multidisciplinary teams of professionals who have special expertise in the healthcare of children and/or adolescents. Services may include dental care; crisis intervention; routine checkups and health counseling; physical examinations; immunizations; referral and follow-up for specialty care; laboratory testing; reproductive health care; diagnosis and treatment of sexually transmitted diseases; individual, family and group counseling; prescriptions and dispensing of medications; nutrition counseling and weight management; treatment of acute injuries or illnesses; and outreach to families. Services are aimed at, but not limited to, students who do not have access to a family doctor, or whose families have little or no health insurance. All students enrolled at the school serviced by the SBHC are eligible but parent consent is required. Contact: School and Primary Health Unit, Connecticut Department of Public Health (DPH). Telephone: (860) 509-8057 or contact the school-based clinics directly.

Connecticut Breast and Cervical Cancer Early Detection Program (CBCCEDP)

CBCCEDP is a federal- and state-funded program that provides free screening and diagnostic services for uninsured and underinsured women ages 19-64. Administered by the Department of Public Health (DPH), CBCCEDP reduces breast and cervical cancer morbidity and mortality by diagnosing these cancers at earlier stages. Women are screened for eligibility; scheduled for an appointment; receive diagnostic testing; and treatment referral services as needed at any one of the following sites.

who have HIV infection are especially vulnerable. All state residents are eligible for TB services. By state law, no resident can be held liable for the costs of their care and treatment for TB. The state also provides free anti-tuberculosis drugs to physicians who request them for their patients regardless of the patients’ ability to pay. Local health departments, and home care agencies also offer outreach services for patients ingesting TB medications. Most licensed physicians in the state can provide TB evaluation and treatment services and there are a number of established TB clinics at hospitals and at some of the larger municipal health departments. CHOICES

Connecticut Health Insurance Assistance, Outreach, Information, Counseling and Eligibility Screening Program (CHOICES)

The Department of Social Services, in partnership with Area Agencies on Aging, administers CHOICES, a program providing free information and referrals to elders. Trained staff and volunteer counselors provide assistance with health insurance options including Medicare fee-for-service, managed care (Advantage), Medicare Part D prescription plans, Medicare supplemental insurance (Medigap), and Medicare Savings Programs for individuals with low-income, and sometimes a Benefits Checkup eligibility screening for federal and state programs. Specialists who are up-to-date on all benefit programs for the elderly direct people to the proper federal, state, or local agency for assistance. Contact: Area Agencies on Aging. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-994-9422. or DSS Telephone: (860) 424-5862.

Connecticut Insurance Assistance Program for AIDS Patients (CIAPAP)

The state offers CIAPAP for income eligible persons who have AIDS. The program helps patients take advantage of state and federal COBRA laws that allow for an extension of employer-provided group health insurance to people who leave their jobs. The state Department of Social Services can pay for extended insurance premiums to the extent allowed by state and federal law for people who meet the financial, medical and other requirements. A person must be diagnosed by a physician as having AIDS or an AIDS-related disease, have been covered by an employee’s medical insurance, and be eligible for an extension of employer-provided health insurance. Both federal and state laws require the former employee to file for these special benefits within a month or two the date the insurance coverage ends, or the date of notification of the option to continue coverage, whichever is later. Applications must therefore be made within the timeframe allowed. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-842-1508. Toll-free TDD/TTY: 1-800-842-4526.

Medicare

Medicare is a federal health insurance program administered by the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) for people age 65 or older, people with permanent kidney failure, and certain disabled persons. Part A Hospital Coverage pays a share of the costs for hospital, nursing home, and home health care. Part B Medical Coverage pays for a share of the costs for physicians and other medical expenses and health services not covered under the hospital coverage. Most participants must ask to be enrolled in Part B of the program and must pay a monthly premium for that service.

A person 65 years or older and collecting Social Security is automatically eligible for Medicare. An applicant at least 65 years but not yet retired can enroll in the program. A person over 65 years and not eligible for Social Security can buy into the program. People who are under 65 and have been entitled to Social Security disability benefits for 24 months are also eligible. People who have serious kidney disease can enroll regardless of age. There are no income or asset limits for this program.

Any local Social Security office can take applications, assist beneficiaries in filing claims and provide general information about the program. To ask for a review of whether services are covered by Medicare or a decision on the amount Medicare will pay for a claim, call or write the Medicare claim office within six months of the date the claim was processed. National Social Security Toll-free Infoline: 1-800-772-1213. TTY: 1-800-325-0778.

Medicare Assignment Program (ConnMAP)

ConnMAP, administered by the Department of Social Services (DSS), is a program for lower-income elders who meet residency requirements and are enrollees of Medicare Medical Insurance (Part B). It is designed to assure Connecticut enrollees that health care providers who agree to treat them will not charge more than Medicare-approved rates for services covered by Medicare Part B. Medicare pays 80 percent of the approved charge, after subtracting any part of the $100 deductible not yet met. The health care provider will charge the patient for the part of the deductible not yet met and for the remaining 20 percent of the approved charge. The health care provider can charge for any services not covered by Medicare.

At an office visit, the patient presents a card to the office staff of the health care provider. Once the card is presented, providing treatment means the health care provider agrees to accept Medicare-approved rates for the medical care. Residents of Connecticut with an annual income under $34,320 (single) or under $46,365 (married) are ConnMAP eligible. Information and applications are available from DSS. Areas senior centers, municipal agents and physicians’ offices may also have applications. DSS Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-443-9946. Telephone: (860) 424-4925.

Connecticut Pharmaceutical Assistance Contract to the Elderly and Disabled Program (ConnPACE)

The Department of Social Services (DSS) operates the ConnPACE program, which pays the cost of prescription drugs that exceed $16.25 per prescription. People 65 years of age or over and those over the age of 18 and disabled under Social Security with income under $20,800 (single) or under $28,100 (married) are eligible. The applicant must have been a state resident for at least six months. There is a $30 annual registration fee.

The program will pay for prescriptions only after the deductible has been met and no other type of insurance or medical coverage is available. For those enrolled in managed care programs, ConnPACE will pay for prescription drugs after the prescription drug benefits available from the managed care organization have been exhausted. DSS Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-423-5026. Telephone: (860) 832-9265.

Health Care for Uninsured Kids and Youth (HUSKY)

HUSKY is Connecticut’s health insurance program for children and families. HUSKY is available to residents of Connecticut who are US citizens or legal immigrants. HUSKY provides a comprehensive benefits package including regular medical check-ups and well-child care; prescriptions; mental health and substance abuse services; dental check-ups and dental care, immunizations, counseling, vision care, durable medical equipment and hospital care. All children enrolled in HUSKY are entitled to Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis, and Treatment (EPSDT), which is a formal vision, hearing, and developmental screening. All treatment for medically necessary services identified during the course of an EPSDT screening are covered.

HUSKY healthcare is either free or low-cost, depending on family size and income. The program has two parts, HUSKY A and HUSKY B. HUSKY A is free and covers low-income children and their parents or a caretaker relative. HUSKY B is for higher income families but only covers uninsured children up to age 19. HUSKY B requires small copayments and may also require a monthly premium depending on income and family size. Once enrolled in HUSKY, families choose a Managed Care Organization (health plan) to coordinate the benefits package. Each health plan offers a network of participating doctors, dentists, hospitals, pharmacies, and other specialty providers that families must use. Mental health and substance abuse services are available to HUSKY members through the CT Behavioral Health partnership. For more information about the HUSKY program or to apply, Toll-free Telephone 1-877-CTHUSKY (1-877-284-8759). Press option 1 for general information and an application. Press option 2 to apply by phone. TDD/TTY 1-800-410-1681. Website: huskyhealth.com Email: Webmaster@huskyhealth.com Questions about EPSDT can be directed to Toll-free Infoline: 2-1-1, or Contact: Department of Social Services (DSS) Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-842-1508.

Medicaid (Title XIX)

Medicaid is a joint federal/state health insurance program administered by the state Department of Social Services (DSS). Medicaid provides coverage for a comprehensive array of health services and medical needs, including services not covered by Medicare. Some services require prior authorization from DSS.

Medicaid encompasses both managed care for income-eligible children and their parents under HUSKY A as well as fee-for-service coverage for adults with disabilities and persons 65 and over. People who receive State Supplement for the Aged, Blind or Disabled automatically qualify for Medicaid. If an applicant’s income is not from this source, assistance under other medical coverage categories may still be possible. If an applicant’s income is too high to qualify under normal income eligibility guidelines, eligibility for medical assistance may still be possible if the medical bills are very high. The asset eligibility criteria for this program vary. Applications are made through any local DSS office listed under Multiservice Agencies in this book.

Qualified Medicare Beneficiary (QMB)
Specified Low-Income Medicare Beneficiary (SLMB)
Additional Low-Income Medicare Beneficiary (ALMB) Programs

QMB, SLMB, and ALMB, administered by the Department of Social Services (DSS), are federal and state-funded programs that provide health care coverage and financial assistance in paying Medicare costs for certain Medicare beneficiaries. QMB pays all Medicare premiums, deductibles and co-payments – up to approved rates – for eligible individuals. It was designed to fill the gaps in Medicare coverage by eliminating out-of-pocket expenses for Medicare-covered services. For those eligible for QMB there should be no cost for any Medicare-covered services from medical providers who participate in both the Medicare and Medicaid plans. The SLMB program pays the Medicare Part B premium only. The ALMB program also pays the full amount of the Medicare Part B premium per month. However, funding for the ALMB program is limited, so it is important to apply as soon after January 1 as possible each year. Once funding runs out, applications will not be accepted. These programs are available at no cost to Medicare beneficiaries (both elderly and those with disabilities). To be eligible for any of the programs, you must be a citizen or legal resident of the United States and the State of Connecticut; be enrolled or eligible to enroll in Medicare Part A; have limited income; and have limited assets. Call DSS for an application at Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-609-5627, or visit a local DSS office listed under Multiservice Agencies in this book. State-Administered General Assistance Medical Program (SAGA Medical)

The Department of Social Services (DSS) regional offices may provide medical assistance (SAGA Medical) to persons who are unable to pay for necessary medical expenses such as doctor visits, prescriptions, and the cost of hospitalizations. If the applicant is hospitalized and cannot afford to pay, the hospital’s billing department should be informed as soon as possible and requested to file an application for SAGA Medical on behalf of the applicant. For questions, call DSS Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-842-1508.

Children

Children with Special Health Care Needs Program (CSHCN)

CSHCN is a statewide program for children with chronic illness or disability. There are five Regional Medical Home Support Centers (RMHSC) providing information and support to families in their own community. RMHSCs offer care coordination; resource linkage to support groups, agencies and other helpful services; educational supports; and respite funding when available. The centers work with Primary Care Providers (Medical Homes) in identifying children with special health care needs and partnering with them to help families receive comprehensive coordinated care. CSHCN can pay for certain medical goods and services that include but are not limited to: hearing aids, wheelchair, and special nutritional formulas for families who meet the family income and insurance eligibility guidelines. Telephone: (860) 509-8074 or Contact the nearest RMHSC for more information.

Healthy Start

The Healthy Start program provides Medicaid medical coverage to pregnant women and to children up to age 19 who live in households with incomes at or below 185% of the federal poverty level. When calculating the size of a family, a pregnant woman would be counted as two members of the household, and a woman expecting twins counted as three members. Resources other than income (e.g., savings accounts, insurance policies, cars) are not taken into consideration when determining eligibility. Eligible women receive continuous Medicaid coverage for up to 60 days after the pregnancy, regardless of any changes in financial situation. Children born to women on Healthy Start are eligible for Medicaid coverage for the first year of life, regardless of family income during this period of time. Healthy Start pregnancy-related benefits include: prenatal care; case-management services to high-risk pregnant women; labor and delivery; and 60 days of postpartum care. Call Infoline at 2-1-1 or Contact: Department of Social Services (DSS). Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-842-1508.

Hopeline Pregnancy Resource Center

Hopeline Pregnancy Resource Center offers free and confidential pregnancy tests with a staff that provides compassionate, nonjudgmental help whether a woman chooses to keep her child, chooses adoption, or chooses abortion. Hopeline provides decision-making counseling for those in unplanned pregnancies; emotional and spiritual support during and after pregnancy; assistance with resources; baby supplies; referrals; and information to make an informed choice. Help is also offered in post-abortion support groups, relationship counseling, and abstinence counseling. Hopeline has offices in Bridgeport, Danbury, Monroe, Shelton, and New Milford. National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI-CT)

NAMI-CT is a volunteer organization of families, friends, and individuals living with serious mental illness. Its purpose is to provide support, education, and advocacy to: keep individuals informed of services and resources available to them in or near their communities; develop public understanding of mental illness; and advocate for better services and treatment. Address: 30 Jordan Lane - Third Floor, Wethersfield, CT 06109. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-215-3021. Telephone: (860) 882-0236. E-mail: namicted@namict.org. Website: namict.org.

Connecticut Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services (DMHAS)

DMHAS ensures quality services for people with a psychiatric disability or an addiction disorder, or both, through a coordinated array of services. DMHAS serves anyone 18 years or older who lives at or below the poverty level. Services provided include:

Community Psychiatric Support Services are designed to enable adults with psychiatric disabilities to live in communities. Support is offered through residential, employment, social rehabilitation, and case management services to reduce the stress, which can precipitate the symptoms of mental illnesses.

Inpatient Services include a comprehensive range of care for people whose illness precludes treatment in a less structured setting. Inpatient facilities provide high-intensity care, focusing on clinical interventions.

Special Programs have been developed to meet the care/needs of specific groups. These include people who are homeless and mentally ill; abusing substances and HIV-positive; deaf and hearing impaired; dually diagnosed with a mental illness and substance abuse; and clients who are involved with the courts.

State Operated Facilities offer acute care and rehabilitation services to Connecticut citizens. Clients receive individual and group counseling, family therapy, AIDS counseling and referrals, occupational therapy, linkage to community and social services, and exposure to 12-step groups such as Alcoholics Anonymous. Priority access is granted to pregnant women.

Community Treatment Programs are funded and monitored by DMHAS throughout the state, including services exclusively for pregnant substance abusing women and their children. Funded treatment programs offer a variety of residential and outpatient services to male and female substance abusers. There is also pre- and post-trial education, as well as criminal justice programs.

Substance abuse prevention organizations throughout the state are funded by DMHAS. Programs such as The Governor’s Prevention Partnership and the Connecticut Clearinghouse conduct informational campaigns and the distribution of educational materials about alcohol, drugs, and mental health. 2-1-1 Infoline operates the statewide referral service for individuals experiencing problems with mental illness, alcohol or drug abuse.

Disabilities

WARM Lines for the Disabled

WARM Lines are special telephone services staffed by people with psychiatric disabilities who offer phone support to their peers. These lines are not crisis lines, and the hours of operation vary at each facility.

Children, Youth and Families

Adoption and Foster Care

Casey Family Services

Foster care program: Designed for children who, for a variety of reasons, cannot live with their birth parents or extended family of origin, or be adopted. The program recruits, trains, and supports qualified foster families to provide a stable family experience for each foster child while maintaining, to the fullest extent possible, a connection with the child’s birth family. The program seeks to help children reach the highest level of permanency.

Post Adoption Program: Provides services to individuals and families who have adopted children and need treatment and support to strengthen and preserve the family. The program helps adoptive families understand the developmental process of adoption— including issues of bonding and attachment, grief/loss, birth family concerns, transitioning from foster care to adoption, and transracial or transcultural adoptions. The program provides counseling, training, technical assistance, family strengthening activities, school advocacy, and groups for adopted children and parents.

Coordinating Council for Children in Crisis (CCCC)

CCCC prevents child abuse, neglect and victimization across the life span through home visiting; parent education; family strengthening and advocacy activities; individual and group counseling; and safety planning for abused women. CCCC covers the 20 towns of the Greater New Haven area. Services are free. Address: 131 Dwight Street, New Haven, CT 06511. Telephone: (203) 624-2600. E-mail: info@ccccnh.org. Website: www.cccnh.org.

Danbury Regional Child Advocacy Center

The Danbury Regional Child Advocacy Center is an organization dedicated to protecting children by supporting and empowering families. The Center’s programs include: parent mentoring; parent education and support; child protection teams; multi-disciplined investigation teams; and parent aide programs. The Center covers towns in Greater Danbury with English, Spanish and Portuguese-speaking staff. Address: 268 Main Street, Danbury, CT 06810. Telephone: (203) 748-4542. E-mail: childcom@aol.com. Website: danbury.org/commission.

Family Leave Policies

State law: Anyone working for an employer who has 75 or more employees in Connecticut may take an unpaid leave of up to 16 weeks over a two-year period for birth, adoption, placement of a foster child, or the serious illness of a child, parent, spouse, parent-in-law, or the employee himself/herself. An employee must have worked for the company at least one year and at least 1,000 hours in the year prior to the requested leave. At the end of the leave, the employee is entitled to return to the same job, if available, or an equivalent job with equivalent pay and benefits. Contact the Connecticut Department of Labor Address: 200 Folly Brook Boulevard, Wethersfield, CT 06109. Telephone: (860) 240-4160 (Hartford), or (203) 773-2249 (New Haven).

Private Family Service Agencies

The Family Service Agencies listed below are community-based resources for crisis and mental health counseling for troubled parents, couples, youth and the elderly. Child Guidance Clinics provide diagnostic and crisis counseling services, behavioral management and psychiatric treatment to children – usually up to age 18 – and their parents. Mental Health Centers provide similar services to both children, youth and adults.

Supervised Visitation

Listed below are four agencies that offer third party supervised visitation services. Supervised visitation is designed to provide a safe setting for children and their parents or significant others (e.g., grandparents) to meet when the children are living out of the home of the person with visitation privileges. Referrals for visitation are made by Family Relations, Department of Children and Families, attorneys, therapists and other sources.

AMPS, Inc. accepts referrals from anywhere in the state, and from any other state. Address: 7 Keynote Drive, Suite B, Vernon, CT 06066. Telephone: (860) 870-8788. Fax: (860) 875-6809.

Children’s Rights Council of Connecticut Norwich Child Access Site provides neutral drop off and pick up for children between their parents who do not live together and also provides supervised access/visitation. Address: 47 Town Street, Norwich CT 06360. Telephone: (860) 437-8010.

Kidsafe CT is a child abuse prevention/treatment agency that helps parents learn positive parenting skills. It serves 12 towns. Address: 19 Elm Street, Vernon CT 06066. Telephone: (860) 872-1918. Website: kidsafe.org.

Southern Connecticut State University – Marriage and Family Therapy Clinic serves the greater New Haven area. Address: 501 Crescent Street, Davis Hall B-2, New Haven CT 06515. Telephone: (203) 392-6415.

For other supervised visitation agencies, call Family Relations within the Family Division of the state Superior Court. Check the local listing in the blue pages of your local telephone directory or call Infoline at 2-1-1.

Children, Youth and Families 26
The Village for Families & Children

The Village for Families & Children is a private, nonprofit community service agency providing prevention, treatment and placement services to children and families in the Hartford area. These include specialized foster care, as well as therapeutic and medically fragile; special needs adoption, and post adoption services; outpatient, intensive outpatient, extended day and residential treatment; assessment and support for children involved with the courts; school-based family resource centers; after school programs for middle and high school students; and Friends of the Family, a resource and referral agency for pregnant and parenting youth under 21. Services are provided at three agency sites, in schools and in community settings. Main Address: 1680 Albany Avenue, Hartford, CT 06105. Telephone: (860) 236-4511. Website: villageforchildren.org.

Elders

AARP

AARP is a nonprofit, nonpartisan membership organization that helps people 50+ have independence, choice and control as they age. AARP provides information; engages in legislative, regulatory and legal advocacy; assists members in serving their communities; and offers a wide range of unique benefits, products and services to its 36 million members. Specific programs, some conducted in partnership with others, include the following.

AARP Tax-Aide: A confidential, free and quality service available to middle and low income taxpayers of all ages with special attention to those aged 60 and older. IRS certified volunteers are trained to assist in filing basic tax forms and answer tax questions.

AARP Driver Safety Program: The nation’s first and largest classroom driver refresher course specially designed for motorists age 50 and older. Trained volunteers help older drivers improve their skills while teaching them to avoid accidents and traffic violations.

AARP Connecticut Chapters: There are 65 AARP chapters in CT. Chapters provide community service and advocacy opportunities locally, statewide and nationally. Chapters also offer education, usually through a dynamic speaker invited to a monthly meeting. Chapters are a way to make new friends, develop your potential to lead and motivate others, and have a part in building a better community.

AARP Benefits Outreach Program: This program uses an online screening tool developed by the National Council on Aging to connect adults 55 and older with programs and services for which they may qualify, such as help paying for prescription drugs, energy and housing, and getting in-home supportive services and employment. To use this free, private tool, visit our website and go to “Find Help with the Benefits Outreach Program.”

AARP Money Management Program: Promotes independent living for older people on a limited income who cannot manage their financial affairs and do not have friends and family who can help. Trained volunteers help clients manage their money for daily living. AARP recruits members to serve as volunteers and provides technical assistance.

AARP Faith in Action Community Volunteer Transportation Program: Provides seniors and people with disabilities transportation in their communities. Volunteers now serve in two local Faith in Action programs in the Middletown and New Haven regions.

AARP Grief & Loss Program: Provides support to people experiencing a loss in their life. Volunteers are trained to help a person through the grieving process through one-on-one peer counseling and support groups.

To join AARP, obtain AARP information and services, and/or to volunteer, contact: Address: AARP Connecticut, 21 Oak Street, Suite 104, Hartford, CT 06106-8003. Toll-free Telephone: 1-888-OUR-AARP (1-888-687-2277). National Website: aarp.org. Connecticut State Website: aarp.org/ct.

Alzheimer’s Association

The Alzheimer’s Association, Connecticut Chapter enhances the quality of life of all Connecticut residents affected by Alzheimer’s disease and related disorders through advocacy, education and support systems, while promoting research efforts. A Helpline operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week and offers emotional support to callers and provides information about Alzheimer’s disease, chapter services and community resources. Address: 279 New Britain Road, Kensington, CT 06037. Multi-lingual, Toll-free Helpline: 1-800-356-5502. Telephone: (860) 828-2828. Website: alzct.org.

Area Agencies on Aging

Area Agencies on Aging are private, nonprofit advocacy organizations serving the needs of older adults and their families. They provide planning and financial support to organizations serving older adults, as well as information and assistance on health insurance, community-based services, elder care, and training and education on aging issues. State-wide Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-994-9422.

Breakthrough to the Aging (BTA)

BTA, sponsored by the Capitol Region Conference of Churches and its affiliate agencies, trains volunteers throughout Connecticut to help homebound and isolated older and disabled persons – usually aged 60 and over – remain independent so they can enjoy and maintain a high quality of life. Friendly Visitors offer companionship to people who are isolated and/or homebound. Weekly home visits last at least 90 minutes. Friendly Shoppers provide grocery-shopping assistance to people who are isolated and/or homebound through weekly or bi-weekly trips to the local market. A pilot Therapeutic Companions program has also begun to provide visitors to elders in nursing homes and other residential care facilities.

Contact: Millicent Pear at The Capitol Region Conference of Churches. Address: 60 Lorraine Street, Hartford, CT 06105. Telephone: (860) 236-1295, ext. 13. Website: conferenceofchurches.org.

Connecticut Association of Adult Day Centers (CAADC)

CAADC is a statewide professional organization representing nearly all adult day centers in the state. Adult Day Health Centers offer programs in a congregate setting for older adults during the day. Services can include nursing care; personal care; nutrition; social services; rehabilitation services and recreation certified by the Department of Social Services (DSS) and CAADC. Primary caregivers for these individuals receive respite from responsibility during the time their loved ones are at the center. Address: 1340 Worthington Ridge, Berlin CT 06037. Telephone: (860) 828-8653. Website: canpfa.org/Content/caadc.

Connecticut Community Care, Inc. (CCCI)

CCCI is a statewide care management organization that helps older individuals and others needing chronic care to remain at home, living as independently as possible in the most cost-effective manner. CCCI care managers are specially trained nurses and social workers who make recommendations regarding care options based on an objective and comprehensive assessment. CCCI care managers arrange and oversee care from local, qualified homecare providers. CCCI serves as an access agency to the State’s Home Care Program for elders in the Eastern, North Central and Northwestern regions of the state. See Department of Social Services in this section. Address: 43 Enterprise Drive, Bristol, CT 06010-7472. Hours: 8:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m. Toll-free Telephone: 1-866-845-2224. Website: etcommunitycare.org.

Connecticut Statewide Respite Care Program: Provides respite services, information, and support for families caring for a person with Alzheimer’s disease or related dementias. The person must have an income of $30,000 or less and liquid assets of $80,000 or less. The program is operated through the five Area Agencies on Aging in CT and pays up to $3,500 in respite care services per family per year. Statewide Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-994-9422. Telephone: (860) 424-5279.

Connecticut Partnership for Long Term Care: Enables residents to pay for future long-term care without impoverishing themselves. They can buy a pre-approved private long-term care insurance policy from a company that is participating in the Partnership and protect a specified amount of assets from Medicaid spend-down. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-547-3443.

Connecticut’s National Family Caregiver Support Program: Provides information, assistance, support groups, counseling, training, respite and supplemental services to families caring for someone aged 60 and over and grandparents 60 and over raising children. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-994-9422. Telephone: (860) 424-5199.

Conservators: DSS Social Workers act as Conservators of Estate for persons 60 years of age and older, when no other Conservator can be found by the Probate Court. Clients must meet income guidelines (assets of $1,500 or less). Financial management is provided to elders whose assets and welfare would be jeopardized without this service. DSS Social Workers also act as Conservator’s of Person for income-eligible people, over age 60, who have been determined by the probate court to be incapable of making sound decisions to assure their own health and welfare. This program enables substitute decision-making in areas such as housing, medical treatment, advanced directive planning and gives the DSS Commissioner legal responsibility for an elder’s care and well-being. Telephone: (860) 424-5241.

Education: DSS, in partnership with Elderhostel Inc., provides financial assistance – hostels – to low-income individuals who wish to attend an Elderhostel programs but cannot afford the cost. Individuals must provide proof of income for eligibility purposes. Toll-free Telephone: 1-866-218-6631. Telephone: (860) 424-5293.

Employment: The Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP), also called Title V, provides subsidized employment training and job search assistance for low-income adults, aged 55 and older. The goal of the program is to assist older adults with transition to unsubsidized employment. Toll-free Telephone: 1-866-218-6631. Telephone: (860) 424-5293.

Grandparents as Parents Support Network (GAPS): This statewide network promotes the creation of services and support groups for grandparents and relatives raising children. Toll-free Telephone: 1-866-218-6631. Telephone: (860) 424-5199.

National Family Caregiver Support Program: Provides information, assistance, support groups, counseling, training, respite and supplemental services to families caring for someone aged 60 and over and grandparents 60 and over raising children. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-994-9422. Telephone: (860) 424-5199.

Homecare Program: The Connecticut Homecare Program for Elders enables older persons – 65 or older – at risk of institutionalization to receive the support they need to remain living at home. Available services include adult day health care; assisted living; care management; chore assistance; companionship; home delivered meals; emergency response; homemaker help; home health care; minor home modifications; personal care assistance; and visiting nurse. After an initial screening by the Alternate Care Unit of DSS, individuals meeting the both the financial and functional screening criteria are referred for an independent, comprehensive assessment. This assessment determines the prospective client’s needs and whether a community-based plan of care can be developed that is safe, cost-effectively and meets the individual’s needs. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-445-5394. See also Connecticut Community Care in this book.

Respite Care: This program provides respite services, information, and support for families caring for a person with Alzheimer’s disease or related dementias. The person must have an income of $30,000 or less and... liquid assets of $80,000 or less. The program is operated through the five Area Agencies on Aging in CT and pays up to $3,500 in respite care services per family per year. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-994-9422. Telephone: (860) 424-5279.

Formerly known as the National Eye Care Project, SEP ensures that every senior has access to medical eye care. The program is designed for individuals age 65 and older who have not seen an ophthalmologist in 3 years or more; are not in a doctor-restricted health plan; or do not have VA benefits. The program is free for the uninsured. For the insured, Medicare or private insurance is billed and the balance is waived. Eligible seniors receive a comprehensive medical eye exam and treatment for any disease diagnosed at the time of the initial visit for up to one year. Eyeglasses, prescriptions, hospital services and fees of other medical professionals are not covered. Address: 655 Beach Street, San Francisco CA 94142-9098. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-222-EYES (3937). E-mail: pubserv@aaao.org. Website: eyecareamerica.org.

Veterans

Connecticut Department of Veterans’ Affairs

The Department of Veterans’ Affairs was established to provide expanded, integrated, and coordinated services to Connecticut veterans and their families. The agency provides comprehensive assistance to veterans, their spouses, or eligible dependents in protecting their rights and privileges and obtaining the benefits to which they are entitled under federal, state and local laws. Counsel is provided to veterans concerning educational training and retraining; health, medical and rehabilitation services; housing assistance; and benefits for veterans in nursing homes. The agency assists in the establishment, preparation, and presentation of claims to rights, benefits or privileges accrued to veterans. The Department of Veterans’ Affairs maintains a staffed office in each Congressional District:

Soldiers’, Sailors’, and Marines’ Fund

The Soldiers’, Sailors’, and Marines’ Fund provides temporary assistance to veterans or their dependents who demonstrate need for food, clothing, medical aid, shelter, assistance in paying utility bills, or other temporary financial service. The veteran must have served in the Armed Forces of the United States during a wartime period, have an honorable discharge, and be a legal resident of the State of Connecticut. Wartime service dates are:

- War Period
  - World War I April 6, 1917 to November 11, 1918
  - World War II December 7, 1941 to December 31, 1946
  - Korean Conflict June 27, 1950 to December 31, 1955
  - Vietnam Era December 22, 1961 to July 1, 1975
  - Desert Shield/Storm/ Persian Gulf War August 7, 1990 to Indefinite

Call to learn about additional non-wartime combat and combat support service dates. Applications may be filed through the American Legion Service Officer in the town in which the veteran resides, or at offices in Bridgeport, Hartford, New Haven, Norwich, or Waterbury. Telephone: (860) 953-4345.

U.S. Department of Veterans’ Affairs (VA)

Benefits available to veterans include educational assistance, home loan guaranties, disability compensation, pension, medical care, life insurance and burial benefits, and dependent benefits. The main programs are summarized briefly below. Contact: U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs Regional Office (VARO). Mailing Address: P.O. Box 310909 Newington, CT 06111 Website: va.gov Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-827-1000.

Dependency and Indemnity Compensation: available to spouses, parents, and children of service personnel or veterans who die from a disease or injury incurred on duty or, under certain circumstances, who suffered total service-connected disability before death. VA’s death pension may also be paid to surviving spouse and children under 18 (23, if attending school) if family income does not exceed certain limits. Children who become permanently incapable of self-support after age 18 may receive the benefit, as long as the disability remains and they do not marry. An additional allowance is payable to a surviving spouse who is a patient in a nursing home or otherwise determined to be in need of regular aid and attendance, or who is permanently housebound because of a disability.

Spanish speaking staff available.

29 Veterans
Dependents’ Benefits: Monthly allowance for education will be paid by VA to help educate spouses and children of veterans who are completely disabled from service-connected causes, who die as a result of service, or who die while completely disabled from service-connected causes. These payments are provided for children between the ages of 18 and 26 (handicapped children may begin special courses as early as age 14).

Disability Compensation: VA pays compensation for veterans disabled by injury or disease incurred in, or aggravated by, active service in the line of duty. Payments are based on the degree of disability and the amount it inhibits a veteran’s employability. Additional funds are payable for dependents if a veteran’s service-connected disabilities are evaluated as 30% or more disabling.

Home Loan Guarantees: Veterans, reservists, and service personnel may be eligible for GI loans made by private lenders for homes. Such loans are also available to unmarried surviving spouses of service personnel who die on active duty or as a result of service-connected disabilities. Grants are also available for specially adapted homes for veterans with severe service-connected disabilities.

Life Insurance: Various types of lower-cost VA life insurance are available for certain service-disabled veterans.

The Montgomery GI Bill: Active Duty/Selected Reserve – Individuals who first entered active duty after July 1, 1985 may be eligible for up to 36 months of educational assistance with three years of continuous active duty service. Members contribute $100 a month for the first twelve months of service to receive up to $1034 per month while attending school full-time. Eligibility expires ten years from date of separation. Eligible members of the selected reserves may also qualify under a separate act for $297 per month for full-time school attendance.

Nonservice-Connected Pension: A war-time veteran who becomes permanently and totally disabled for reasons not traceable to service may be eligible for VA’s nonservice-connected disability pension if family income does not exceed certain limitations.

Post-Vietnam Veterans Educational Assistance: Persons who entered the service after 1976 may be eligible for up to four years of educational assistance under a voluntary, contributory, matching program. For every dollar contributed while on active duty, the government will contribute two dollars. Contributions are limited to a range of $25 to $100 monthly and a total maximum of $2,700 per year. Expiration date is ten years after separation.

Veterans Affairs Medical Care: VA provides hospital or outpatient care, when needed, for all service-connected medical conditions. Treatment is available at VA Medical Centers or clinics. Under certain circumstances, VA may pay for outpatient care by a hometown doctor or dentist.

VA hospital care is provided to service-connected veterans and to lower-income veterans. Those veterans with higher incomes will be provided VA health care on a space-available basis and may be charged a copayment for their care based on their level of income.

The eligibility assessment applies to most nonservice-connected veterans, regardless of age, but there are exceptions, so ask about them.

VA Medical Centers in Connecticut are in Newington (out patient only) and West Haven. Under certain circumstances, outpatient treatment, ambulatory care, home health services, mental health services, prosthetic appliances, dental care, and alcohol and drug dependence treatment are available.

Medical care may also be available to a spouse or child of a veteran with a total and permanent service-connected disability. Under certain circumstances, it is also available to a surviving spouse and child in the event of the veteran’s death.

Vocational Rehabilitation: Veterans and service members who served in the Armed Forces on or after September 16, 1940, are eligible for vocational rehabilitation if three conditions are met:

1. They suffered a service-connected disability or disabilities in active service which would entitle them to at least 20% compensation or would do so but for receipt of military retirement pay. Veterans with a 10% disability also may be found eligible if they have a serious employment handicap;

2. They were discharged or released under other than dishonorable conditions or are hospitalized awaiting separation for disability;

3. The VA determines that they need vocational rehabilitation consistent with their abilities, aptitudes and interests to overcome employment impairment. Their service-connected disabilities must materially contribute to this handicap.

Mental Health and Addiction

The Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services (DMHAS) provides special assistance to veterans who are in need of mental health and substance abuse treatment. DMHAS coordinators with the Connecticut Department of Veterans Affairs to insure that appropriate services are provided to all of Connecticut’s veterans. The agency assists with registration into the state’s VA system; reviews eligibility for state VA disability; and advocates for veterans’ health care including mental health. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-446-7348.

Veterans’ Employment Training Service (VETS)

The mission of this agency is to help veterans, reservists, and National Guard members in securing employment and the associated rights and benefits including: resolution of claims under the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act and fact-finding assistance to veterans who believe their veteran preference rights have been violated. The agency also provides: employment and training assistance through grants to states, local governments, and non-profit agencies; effective service delivery networks involving other agencies; and training of specific professional skills to service providers. Contact: Veterans’ Employment and Training Service. Address: 200 Folly Brook Blvd., Wethersfield, CT 06109. Telephone: (860) 263-6490. Website: dol.gov/vets.

Veterans’ Tuition Waiver Program - State of Connecticut

Certain veterans may attend public colleges in Connecticut tuition-free under the Veterans Tuition Waiver Program. Waivers generally are limited to credit-bearing courses at all campuses of the University of Connecticut, the Connecticut State University System, and the community technical colleges. Children of certain Connecticut MIA/POW veterans are also eligible. For more information regarding the Veterans Tuition Waiver Program, contact any public college or university, or call the Education & Employment Information Center (EEIC), Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-842-0229.
Property Tax Exemptions for Veterans

State law provides for a $1,000 (or more in some towns) basic property tax exemption for veterans who were honorably discharged after having actively served at least 90 days during war time. The veteran’s original copy of his/her Honorable Discharge (DD-214 Form) must be filed in the Land Records of the town of residence prior to October 1 in order that the exemption may be granted. Veterans who have received a disability rating from the Veterans’ Administration of at least 10% are also eligible for a property tax exemption. The exemption amount, which ranges from $1,500 to $3,000, is dependent on the percentage of disability. All veterans receiving the basic benefit will get an additional exemption of at least 50%. Veterans who can meet certain income requirements are now eligible for an additional exemption of 200% of the basic exemption. The additional exemption may also be granted to the unmarried surviving spouse or minor child of a veteran, or the sole surviving parent of an unmarried deceased veteran who can meet the applicable income requirements. An application must be filed biennially with the local tax assessor’s office of the town of residence between February 1 and October 1.

Local Option Veterans’ Property Tax Exemptions

Some towns in Connecticut have income-dependent local option veterans’ tax exemptions. An eligible veteran may be entitled to an additional exemption of $1,000. An annual application must be made prior to October 1, with the tax assessor of the town of residence.

Money Management

Money Matter$

Connecticut Light & Power (CL&P) offers a Money Matter$ program to help customers on limited incomes take a close look at how to manage their household income and reduce their overall energy burdens. Basic money management skills, setting goals, developing a spending plan, reducing expenses, and debt reduction are topics included in the program. Real-life examples engage participants and empower them to manage their household’s resources to achieve their financial goals. Participants receive a complimentary calculator and notebook. To arrange a workshop for your organization or group, Contact: CL&P Community Relations. Telephone: (860) 721-4007.

Connecticut Association for Human Services (CAHS)

CAHS advocates for public policies that move families out of poverty to self-sufficiency and economic security. CAHS supports the creation of a state Earned Income Tax Credit, the funding of work force development programs, and improving access to quality child care. Community-based agencies, trained by CAHS, provide access to basic needs and financial management education. CAHS helps low-income workers access free tax preparation by working with community agencies to open new Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) sites in underserved areas of the state. Address: 110 Bartholomew Avenue, Suite 4030, Hartford, CT 06106-2201. Telephone: (860) 951-2212. Website: cahs.org.

Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC)

Credit Reporting Agencies/Online Tutorials

Federal law now regulates credit-reporting companies to ensure that they follow reasonable procedures to furnish correct information about borrowers. On September 1, 2005, the Federal Trade Commission made a new rule for Connecticut consumers to obtain a free copy of their credit once every 12 months. The three major credit reporting agencies provide credit reports, basic information about credit reports and fraud issues, and a variety of online tools and tutorials.

Credit When Credit Is Due (CWCD)

CWCD is a 12-hour course of study designed to help individuals gain a better knowledge of money issues and responsibilities regarding credit, and provides assistance to those seeking to establish or reestablish credit. The course is offered in Connecticut by the State Treasurer’s Office in collaboration with the Centers for Financial Education (aka Consumer Credit Counseling Service) and local community based organization partners, with generous funding support provided by Bank of America. The program includes a free confidential budget and credit assessment session with a certified financial counselor. Course curriculum is covered in four three-hour classroom sessions with required home study. Topics include: The Facts of Life, To Borrow or Not to Borrow and Dealing with Delinquency, Bankruptcy and Building/Rebuilding Credit. Successful graduates are registered with the three major national credit reporting agencies. Website: ct.gov/ott.

Free Income Tax Assistance

Internal Revenue Service (IRS)

The IRS helps to educate families about tax issues like the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) and tax return preparation through its Stakeholder Partnerships, Education & Communication division. Working with local partners, tax awareness and education are provided to low- and moderate-income individuals and families, those with limited English proficiency, the disabled, and people over 60 years old. Their tax returns can be prepared at no charge through Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) and Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE). VITA & TCE programs train volunteers to prepare simple tax returns, and in the most cases, file the return electronically for the client. Address: 135 High Street, Stop 116, Hartford, CT 06103. Telephone: (860) 756-4658. E-mail: ct.vita.tce@irs.gov.

Free tax return preparation is available in many Connecticut cities through the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program (VITA). VITA sites use certified community volunteers to help residents file income tax returns and obtain special credits, such as the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC), Child Tax Credit and Credit for the Elderly. VITA sites offer electronic filing, which shortens the time to receive a refund if it can be deposited directly into the filer’s bank account. Some VITA sites also offer financial education classes or booklets, and ways to manage debt or clean up bad credit. Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE) can also help individuals prepare a tax return for filing. Both programs operate in neighborhood centers, libraries, schools, shopping malls, and other convenient locations. Call Infoline Toll-free at 2-1-1 to find out where the nearest VITA or TCE site is located. Also see AARP and Financial Literacy in this book.

The IRS is also mandated to assist filers in completing their returns and answering any tax-related questions they may have. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-829-1040. Website: irs.gov.

Information to take to a tax assistance site: (1) Photo identification for client and spouse; (2) Social Security cards for client, spouse and dependents; (3) Birth dates for client and spouse as well as dependents on the tax return; (4) Current year’s tax package, if one was received; (5) Wage and earning statement(s) Form W-2, W-2G, 1099-R, from all employers; (5) Interest and dividend statements from banks (Forms 1099); (6) A copy of last year’s Federal and State returns if available; (7) Bank routing number and client account number for direct deposit; and (8) Other relevant information, such as total child care paid per child and child care provider’s federal identification number. When filing a joint tax return electronically, both spouses are required to sign forms.

Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC)

The EITC is a federal tax benefit for low- and moderate-income working people. It is recognized as the single most effective policy to provide a path out of poverty. It has recently been expanded. The EITC is like a cash rebate from the federal government for holding a lower-wage job. Eligible households get up to $4400 from the EITC. The amount of the earned income credit reduces or eliminates the income tax owed, and any additional amount is refunded to the worker.
ers who don’t owe income tax can qualify, and receive their entire EITC as a refund from the IRS.

Income eligibility in 2005 was capped at $37,263, but it changes every year. Workers with children obtain the EITC by filing a 1040 or 1040A federal income tax return and attaching a Schedule EITC form. Married workers must file a joint return. Workers who were not raising children during the tax year can file any tax form, including the 1040EZ; they do not need to file Schedule EITC. Workers can get more information about eligibility by reading the instruction booklet of the tax return or visiting an IRS office. Tax forms and eligibility information are also available through Internal Revenue Service Toll-free Telephone 1-800-829-3676 or at Website: irs.gov.

Savings and Assets

Individual Development Accounts (IDA)

IDAs are matched savings accounts designed to help low-income individuals and families accumulate funds that can be used for one of several allowable assets such as: post secondary education or job training; home ownership; small business capitalization; lease deposits on primary residences; and vehicle purchases for obtaining or maintaining employment.

State-Sponsored IDA Programs

IDA programs administered by the Connecticut Department of Labor (DOL), strengthen families and communities by facilitating self-sufficiency and economic stability through financial education and asset development. Address: Connecticut Department of Labor, 200 Folly Brook Blvd., Wethersfield, CT 06109-1114. Telephone: (860) 263-6794. E-mail: Lisa.arends@ct.gov Website: ct.gov/dol.

Education and Job Training

Education and Job Training

Connecticut Department of Education

The Bureau of Early Childhood/Career and Adult Education provides funding to local school districts for mandated adult education programs. Every school district in Connecticut has an obligation to provide free classes for its residents in: citizenship preparation; basic skills instruction; English for speakers of other languages; and completion of high school through either a diploma program or the General Educational Development (GED) equivalency. Most local school districts offer a variety of general interest, vocational and recreational courses which are available to residents, usually with a course fee attached. Many programs waive course fees or reduce them for senior citizens. Contact the local school district adult education office, or the Bureau of Early Childhood/Career and Adult Education. Address: 25 Industrial Rd., Middletown, CT 06457. Telephone: (860) 807-2050. Website: ct.gov/sde.

Connecticut Department of Higher Education

The Education & Employment Information Center (EEIC) of the Department of Higher Education has information on education offerings at all levels: high school; college (Connecticut and nationwide); adult; continuing education; and job training programs. The EEIC also has information on student financial aid, private occupational schools, job descriptions and listings of career and education counseling services. Information specialists help teenagers making college or career decisions; unemployed workers exploring job and college options; adults who have not completed high school; professionals making career changes; senior citizens pursuing knowledge; and employers seeking training programs or recent college graduates. The EEIC also offers information on tuition waivers for veterans and senior citizens, an eight week Alternate Route to Teacher Certification program, and national and community service. Hours: 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. Address: EEIC, 61 Woodland St., Hartford, CT 06105. Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-842-0229. Telephone: (860) 947-1810. E-mail: EEIC@ctdh.org. Website: ct.gov/dhe.

Connecticut Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services (DMHAS)

Homeownership

ACORN Housing Corporation (AHC)

AHC assists families to become homeowners and provides homeowners with refinancing and predatory lending counseling. A lot of AHC’s work takes place in forgotten areas that have seen serious disinvestment. AHC operates in low- and very low-income neighborhoods where over 90% of the residents are African-American, Mexican-American, and/or recent immigrants from Central America or the West Indies. Services include community outreach, pre-purchase counseling, delinquency counseling, homeownership and credit counseling. AHC helps homeowners choose appropriate loan sources and obtain loan approval through partnerships with both prime and sub-prime lenders. Bridgeport Address: 2310 Main Street, 3rd Flr. Bridgeport, CT 06606. Telephone: (203) 366-4180. E-mail: ahactlebr@acorn.org.

Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA/ Fannie Mae)

Fannie Mae works with lenders to offer a range of home loan programs including Flexible 97% and Flexible 100% financing, HomeStyle Renovations program, and a Community Solutions program for teachers, police officers, firefighters, and healthcare workers. Website: fanniemae.com.

Habitat for Humanity

Habitat for Humanity offers interest free loans to qualifying families to purchase a home. A one percent down payment and 100–400 hours of sweat equity – labor relating to Habitat projects – are required to obtain the loan. Interested persons should contact their local area affiliate. Website: habitat.org.

Housing Education Resource Center (HERC)

HERC offers first time home ownership counseling and classes, including individual confidential sessions on budget and credit counseling; income-to-debt ratio evaluations; advantages and responsibilities of homeownership; preparing for a loan application interview; a detailed review of the complete home buying process; seminars for those purchasing multi-family dwellings and follow-up post-purchase counseling. HERC is part of the statewide anti-predatory lending awareness campaign, Don’t Borrow Trouble, and offers education and counseling to all consumers regarding this topic. Address: 901 Wethersfield Avenue, Hartford, CT 06114. Telephone: (860) 296-4242. Housing Counseling Line (Tuesday and Friday, 9 a.m. – 5 p.m.): (860) 296-4372.
Corporation for Independent Living (CIL)

CIL is a housing development corporation that produces community housing for people with developmental disabilities, accessible homes for people with physical disabilities, affordable multifamily housing, and homes for first time buyers of low income. Telephone: (860) 563-6011.

Connecticut Housing Finance Authority (CHFA)

CHFA finances the purchase of existing housing, rehabilitation of sub-standard housing, and construction of new housing with below-market interest rate mortgages and other financial incentives for owner-occupancy or rental housing. Major financing programs include:

Down payment Assistance Program: Down payment loans are available to eligible homebuyers at below-market interest rates and secured by a second mortgage on the income.

Home Mortgage Lending Programs: Low-rate mortgages are available to first-time homebuyers with low or moderate incomes, tenants in public or subsidized housing, eligible police officers in participating municipalities, teachers in a priority or transitional school district or in a subject matter shortage area, and full-time military personnel.

Rehabilitation Mortgage Loans: This program provides funds to purchase and rehabilitate an existing home or to refinance and renovate the home in which the owner lives. Borrowers must meet requirements of CHFA’s regular homebuyer programs.

Reverse Annuity Mortgages (RAM): RAM provides loans to lower-income elderly homeowners, 70 years of age or older, with long-term care needs.

Address: 999 West Street, Rocky Hill, CT 06067-4005. Telephone: (860) 721-9501. E-mail: linda.iglesias@chfa.org. Website: chfa.org.

Connecticut Housing Investment Fund (CHIF)

CHIF is a statewide, nonprofit Community Development Financial Institution providing flexible financing, loan servicing, and technical expertise to developers of affordable housing and neighborhood revitalization projects. CHIF also offers loan products to homeowners to rehabilitate existing or build new, affordable homes and apartments.

Construction/Acquisition Loans: CHIF’s Neighborhood Rebuilder Program provides financing to developers to purchase and rehabilitate vacant buildings to convert them into single-family homes. Once the rehabilitation is complete, the nonprofit organization sells the property to a qualified first-time home-buyer.

Energy Conservation Loans: CHIF is the administrative agent for the Department of Economic and Community Development’s Energy Conservation Loan Program, available at below-market interest rates to qualified owners of single-family homes and multifamily apartment buildings. Eligible improvements include the purchase and installation of heating systems, vinyl siding, roofing, windows, attic and wall insulation and alternative energy devices, and implementation of various cost-saving energy conservation measures.

Home Improvement Loans: Qualified owner-occupants of one to four unit owner-occupied properties can borrow up to $10,000 at a fixed annual percentage rate through the CHIF/People’s Bank Home Improvement Program. Eligible improvements include structural additions; remodeling of bathrooms and kitchens; elimination of health and safety hazards; roofing; and reconditioning or replacement of plumbing, air conditioning and electrical systems.

Rural Services Homeownership Program: CHIF provides mortgages to qualified first-time homebuyers who wish to purchase homes in rural communities in Connecticut through the USDA Homeownership Program. The interest rate on the loan is generally below market rate, and the term of the loan is 30 years.

State of Connecticut Department of Economic and Community Development (DECD)

DECD offers funds to assist individuals with home buying and homeownership. American Dream Down Payments of up to $10,000 are available through the following four organizations: Urban Suburban Affordables in Hartford; Eastern CT Housing Opportunities in New London; Neighborhood Housing Services in New Haven; and Neighborhood Housing Services in Waterbury. Town and City Services

Most municipalities offer some support services to their residents. Cities and towns often provide food, clothing, special funds, employment, counseling, information and referral, and case management. Many towns have a Youth Service Bureau to help young people and a Municipal Agent to assist the elderly. The nature and number of services provided varies, but even when such services are not available through town government, nearby community-based social service personnel can usually refer individuals to the right place for assistance.

The Salvation Army

At 30 Corps Community and Worship Centers and through 53 Service Extension volunteer units, the Salvation Army’s programs are delivered to thousands of men, women and children, without discrimination, throughout Connecticut. The Army’s programs and services include, but are not limited to: Family & Youth Shelters (Hartford & Waterbury); The Right Place School Readiness & Family Resource Center (Hartford, Danbury, Meriden); Food and Clothing Bank (Winsted); Grandparents’ Support Group (Hartford); Young Parents Program (Hartford); Adult Drug & Alcohol Rehabilitation Center (Hartford, Bridgeport, New Haven); Girls, Inc. The Hispanic Health Council (HHC)

HHC combines community-based research with high-quality service programs to provide outstanding care to the poor and underserved. HHC’s research explores a wide range of community health and nutrition issues. The service programs draw upon the results of the research to provide high-quality prevention, intervention and community-based educational programs. HHC operates five centers of excellence listed below.

Center for Community Nutrition: Improve the nutritional well-being of low-income people through a variety of marketing strategies that reach thousands of families. The Center has pioneered a unique clinical/community peer counseling model of breastfeeding that helps low-income Latinas overcome barriers to breastfeeding.

Center for Women & Children’s Health: Facilitates positive health practices and outcomes for women and children through outreach, case management, support group facilitation, referrals, and advocacy. The Comadrona program provides culturally-tailored case management for pregnant mothers and their infants.

Center for Youth & Families: Provides innovative leadership development for middle and high school youth. Young Voices in Direct Action (Young VIDA!) offers skills in civic engagement and community organizing to help youth make a real difference in their community. Discovering Hartford explores the city’s history through art and architecture.

Center for Risk Reduction: Responds to unmet needs in the community for direct services, prevention education and support for vulnerable populations who are at high-risk for substance abuse and infectious diseases. Services include: HIV/AIDS counseling, prevention, testing and case management; child abuse prevention education and support for young Latina mothers; and services for youth with substance abuse problems.

Center for Community Health Research: Conducts high-quality community-based research that improves health education, increases public awareness and empowerment, and leads to more effective health interventions.

Connecticut Association for Human Services (CAHS)

CAHS is a statewide organization dedicated to reducing poverty, strengthening families and reconnecting communities. Through advocacy, outreach, public education, and research, CAHS helps families meet their basic needs, achieve self-sufficiency, and build assets for a future of economic security. CAHS forms creative community-based partnerships that advance realistic solutions to a broad range of social policies that affect lower-income families.

Community outreach workers disseminate information to social service agencies in cities and towns across Connecticut to increase participation in hunger and nutrition programs – especially federal Food Stamps – child care subsidies, and financial education. CAHS offers practical tools to promote financial literacy, access to tax credits and asset building. Publications such as Your Family’s Money, Simple Ways to Build a Better Future, and Your Family’s Money: Managing Debt & Credit, are available in English and Spanish, with a companion guide for case managers called Your Client’s Money: Practical Tools for Family Economic Success. CAHS also supports free tax preparation sites, which link filers with the federal Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) and other opportunities to improve their financial situation.

CAHS produces the annual KIDS COUNT Data Book for Connecticut, a compendium of national, state, and local research on the well-being of children living in Connecticut. Periodic policy briefs related to family economic success serve to inform legislators and others working to assist lower income families. CAHS’ recent report about the working poor, Sowing Prosperity: Low Income Families and Connecticut’s Economic Future, highlights the importance of linking economic and workforce development policies with education and social service programs that benefit low income workers as a means of strengthening the state’s economy.

CAHS mobilizes public support for increased access to affordable, quality child care; workforce development; health care; and asset-building programs. CAHS provides decision-makers with innovative solutions to human service problems and holds conferences and workshops on these issues to inform the press and voting public. Address: 110 Bartholomew Avenue, Suite 4030, Hartford, CT 06106-2201. Telephone: (860) 951-2212. E-mail: info@cahs.org. Website: cahs.org.

Connecticut Voices for Children

Connecticut Voices for Children promotes the well-being of all of Connecticut’s young people and their families by advocating for strategic public investments and prudent public policies. It advances its mission through high quality research and analysis; strategic communications; citizen education; and development of the next generation of advocates. The primary areas of current focus are family economic security; education; foster care; health and mental health; youth development; state and federal tax and budget issues; and the benchmarking and tracking of indicators of child and family well-being. In addition to producing multiple research reports and publications and an electronic newsletter E-Notes, Connecticut Voices also maintains specialty listservs on HUSKY health care, the federal budget, and youth issues. Advocates

Denial of Federal or State Benefits

Social Security: If the Social Security Administration (SSA) denies benefits or issues a decision deemed unsatisfactory, an appeal can be made at the SSA office within 60 days from the time that written notice is received. To obtain information regarding rights or assistance in preparing for an appeal, contact the local Legal Services office or a private attorney. Names of private attorneys who handle Social Security matters can be obtained by calling the nearest Lawyer Referral Service. Attorneys generally do not become involved in such cases until the Administrative Law Judge Hearing stage, and usually handle the case on a contingency fee basis (charging for their services only if they win). Their fees must be approved by SSA or a court.

SSI: The same procedures for Social Security denial apply to SSI.

Food Stamps: If Food Stamps are denied, a request for a hearing must be made within 90 days of the date of the decision notice. To request a hearing, contact a local DSS office or write to: Fair Hearing Unit, Department of Social Services, 25 Sigourney Street, Hartford, CT 06106. Be sure to include your name and address. You can also request a Fair Hearing by calling Toll-free Telephone: 1-800-462-0134. Also see Legal Assistance and Legal Services in this book.

Advocacy and Legal Assistance 42
SAGA: If assistance is denied, a hearing may be requested at the local office to review the decision. A state fair hearing may be requested to review a decision by the city or town. Legal assistance for a fair hearing may be obtained from a local Legal Services office.

Temporary Family Assistance: If assistance is denied, requests for appeals must be made within 60 days of the date of the decision notice. To request an appeal, write to Administrative Hearings, Department of Social Services, 25 Sigourney Street, Hartford, CT 06106. Name and address must be included. Information and assistance in preparing for a fair hearing can be obtained from a local Legal Services office.

Unemployment Benefits: If a claim is denied, written notice, which includes information on the appeal process, will be sent to the applicant. Appeals may be filed within 21 days of the mailing date of the notification. Information and assistance are available at each local office. Appeals are handled by independent referees listed below.
