PRODUCTION ASSISTANT TRAINING SEMINAR

Production Assistant (pro·duc·tion as·sis·tant)

(1) Entry-level film production worker, responsible for basic support tasks both on the set and in the production office.
(2) Gopher.

As a result of new tax incentives, Connecticut is quickly becoming a key player in motion picture production. There is currently a shortage of qualified Production Assistants.

CONNECTICUT FILM CENTER will hold a 2-day PA Training Seminar

WHEN:	Saturday, June 9 and Sunday, June 10, 2007
TIMES:	9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
LOCATION:	Stamford, CT
COST:	$200

This seminar will include a film industry overview and exposure to the duties of Set Production Assistants and Office Production Assistants.

Upon completion, Connecticut Film Center will distribute your resume to incoming productions as Set or Office Production Assistants. These positions can last from two weeks to six months.

There are a limited number of spots available
