

Seminar Series presentations are considered a supplement to firefighter and Fire Officer classes offered by the Connecticut Fire Academy. Classes provided by the Connecticut Fire Academy are based on NFPA standards and best practices of the fire service. Seminar Series are also based on these standards and practices but can and often do include opinions of the subject matter experts that are delivering the presentation. Attending any number of the Seminar Series will allow the student to, not only add to their existing training; but also encourage the student to choose from the opinions of different speakers to develop their own style of strategies and tactics at emergency scenes as well as inspire them to acquire more knowledge on fire service subjects.

Command and Control of Maydays for the Incident Commander

2012 Seminar Series
Command and Control of Maydays
for the Incident Commander

Friday Apr 27 2012

Command and Control of Maydays for the Incident Commander

In his presentation, Chief Healy will draw upon experience in mayday scenarios and line of duty deaths that he has operated at. He will discuss his thoughts on command and control of fire operations, focusing on risk management for the incident commander as well as breaking the error chain in an effort to prevent mayday scenarios from developing. Chief Healy will highlight resources that will assist the incident commander in managing a mayday on the fire ground and focusing on the role and positions for chief officers at the incident scene. From lessons learned, he will discuss the role of medical resources that will provide the needed care for injured members. Discussion will also focus on communications and required information for the incident commander to formulate a rescue plan. FAST Operations will be discussed and how to utilize this resource on the fire ground. Chief Healy will discuss a case study of a collapse operation with a long duration rescue and recovery of operating members that he supervised as the FAST Group Supervisor.
