Latest Updates on the ADA and Employment of People with Disabilities

This session is designed to provide attendees a broad overview of the latest developments under the ADA in the area of employment. Panelists will discuss how they have seen the application of law change since the ADA was signed into law.

This session will be kicked off with welcoming remarks by Mayor Toni Harp and our featured guest, Governor Dannel Malloy

Panel moderated by Professor Jon Bauer from the University of Connecticut School of Law

Panelists:

Attorney Barbara Collins, Law Office of Barbara J. Collins

Attorney Mary Kelly, Livingston, Adler, Pulda, Meiklejohn, & Kelly PC

Attorney Gary Phelan, Mitchell & Sheahan, PC

Attorney Michelle Duprey, City of New Haven

This event is co-sponsored by the Connecticut Bar Association's Labor & Employment Section and refreshments will be furnished by Shipman & Goodwin

Reception to follow where Uarts (Universal Arts) Chapel Haven will feature a selection of handmade, artisan products. Uarts Chapel Haven is a program providing creative vocational skills and artisan training for adults with disabilities. Uarts creates accessibility, engagement, resources and opportunities for individuals who have challenges connecting to creativity.

Title II and You, How does Your Municipality Measure Up?

This session will explore how the ADA applies to state and local governments and how you can make your communities more accessible for people with disabilities.

Presentation by the State of Connecticut Office of Protection and Advocacy for Persons with Disabilities' Assistant Director Gretchen Knauff and Human Services Advocate Elanah Sherman

Public Access and Enforcing Your Rights Under the ADA

This session is designed to help members of the community assess ADA compliance of businesses and places of public accommodation. The session will start with a walking tour, led by Attorney Melissa Marshall of the Connecticut Cross Disability Lifespan Alliance. The tour will stop at several local businesses to discuss structural and non-structural barriers.

Immediately following the walking tour there will be a panel discussion on how you exercise your rights for access to public places both under the ADA and state statute.

Opening remarks by Assistant US Attorney, Ndidi Moses, Connecticut's US Attorneys Office

Panelists:

Professor Kevin M. Barry, Quinnipiac Law School

Attorney Kimberly Jacobsen, State of Connecticut Commission on Human Rights & Opportunities

Attorney Michelle Dumas Keuler State of Connecticut Commission on Human Rights & Opportunities
