

University of Connecticut Center for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities

What is self-determination and why is it important in the education of students with disabilities?

About the Seminar

Drs. Michael Wehmeyer and Karrie Shogren, from the University of Kansas' Beach Center on Disability, will be highlighting their work on self-determination. Specifically, they will be defining self-determination and discussing strategies for developing self-determination in students with disabilities.

Time and Location

Date/Time: Monday, March 28, 2016 –
9:30am to 12:30pm
(Registration: 8:30am to 9:30am)

Location: The Farmington Marriott –
15 Farm Springs Rd, Farmington, CT

Registration

The registration for this seminar may be completed at:
<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/5DWTRVF>
You will receive an email confirmation shortly after receipt of your completed registration survey.

Additional Training Opportunity

There will be a special afternoon workshop (1:30pm – 3:30pm) on Evidence- and Research-based Practices to Promote Self-Determination. This workshop will be for school districts who are interested in learning more about how they can infuse self-determination into their practices. Districts will need to send at least four team members who can include administrators, special educators, and/or related service personnel. Space will be limited to eight school districts. To register for this opportunity, email Nick Gelbar (gelbar@uchc.edu).

If you have any questions, please contact Nick Gelbar at (860) 679-1541.

UConn
UNIVERSITY CENTER FOR EXCELLENCE IN DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES

University of Connecticut
Center for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities
Education, Research and Service
270 Farmington Avenue, Suite 181
Farmington, CT 06030-6222
Telephone: 860-679-1500 ~ Toll-Free: 866-623-1315
TTY: 860-679-1502 ~ Fax: 860-679-1571

UConn
HEALTH

WWW.UCONNUCEDD.ORG