EHS Circular Letter 2012-40-a

To: Local Directors of Health
Chief Sanitarians
Certified Food Inspectors

From: Food Protection Program

Date: July 11, 2012

Subject: Various Frozen, Ready- To-Eat Meat and Poultry Products Recall

This is a follow up to EHS Circular Letter #2012-40 that was sent yesterday regarding the recall of various frozen, ready- to-eat meat and poultry products due to potential contamination with Listeria monocytogenes, an organism that although rare, can cause serious illness and death, especially in highly susceptible populations.

Attached is a distribution list that was provided by Napoli Foods, a distributor of some of the products in Connecticut. Reportedly, customers are being contacted by the firm, however due to the large number of products, this list is being provided to local health departments to assist consumers and food operators in the identification and removal of the recalled products dates.

Also attached is a list of schools that received the product from another CT distributor, M & R Frosted Foods. This information is being shared with the CT Department of Education who will provide the list directly to their schools. Although many schools are closed and may have already used the product, some may be operating as part of the Summer Food Program and have product in freezers.

This notice is being provided in case you receive calls from food establishment operators or consumers. Local health departments are advised to contact (as resources allow) those recalled product recipients on the attached lists in their jurisdiction to support efforts to identify and remove the products.

Consumers reporting illness should be advised to contact their primary care physician for proper follow-up and treatment. Local health department staff that receive calls from consumers with possible foodborne illness after consumption of this product should follow the usual procedure of completing the 3-page Foodborne Alert form and faxing it to the FPP within 24 hours at (860) 509-8071.

The Department of Consumer Protection is aware of the recall and can be contacted at 860-713-6160 for additional information.
