Information provided by the provider describing their agency:

CW Resources, Inc. (CW) has a long and rich history of providing vocational rehabilitation services. CW, a private, not for profit and CARF accredited rehabilitation agency, has delivered direct services to thousands of people with disabilities since 1964. CW is dedicated to the creation of integrated vocational training and employment opportunities for those individuals who have physical, developmental and emotional disabilities and are interested in gaining greater independence and employment success.

CW has program and employment centers in New Britain, West Hartford, Gales Ferry, Bristol, and Naugatuck. Each center is unique and offers quality services. We specialize in employment opportunities and day service options. The continuing goal of CW is to increase its capacity to provide meaningful and gainful employment and support an individual's involvement in the community through paid work and active participation in activities. CW's long range goals and service ventures reflect this goal and mission.

CW is determined to help people define their own goals and aspirations and to play an active role in helping people achieve their potential. Staff is committed to support the uniqueness and diversity of each individual in order to foster optimal growth and independence. Respect, accomplishments, choice making, social development and positive relationships all impact a person's ability to define oneself. CW believes that meaningful activities and work play a critical role in this development and supports an individual's self-worth and esteem, enabling a person to achieve their ambition and goals in life. Through these activities, individuals become productive, interdependent members of a team and in society.
