

Sunoco, Inc. (R&M)
Auto Lab Building
100 Green Street
Marcus Hook, PA 19061

December 31, 2012

Merrily Gere
DEEP, Bureau of Air Management
79 Elm Street
Hartford, CT 0616-5127

RE: Sunoco, Inc. (R&M)'s Comments to CT DEEP General Permit regarding exemption of Stage II Vapor Recovery Requirements

Dear Ms. Gere:

This letter sets forth Sunoco, Inc. ("Sunoco") comments to Connecticut Commissioner of the Department of Energy and Environmental Protection ("CT DEEP") proposed Intent to Issue a General Permit for the purpose of providing an exemption from Stage II Vapor Recovery Requirements. Sunoco currently owns and/or operates 19 stations in the State of Connecticut and there are an additional 145 stations that are branded Sunoco, but owned and operated by distributors or dealers. As such, Sunoco respectfully requests that you consider the following comments:

Sunoco supports the issuance of a General Permit to remove Stage II Vapor Recovery systems. The removal of these systems will be a win-win situation as it will potentially reduce the amount of vapors to the atmosphere because new vehicles collect the displaced vapors and it will also reduce the operational cost to station operators.

We appreciate the opportunity to provide comment to this proposed general permit. If you have any questions or concerns please contact me at 610-859-3493 or jlceleste@sunocoinc.com.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Jennifer Celeste", written over a circular scribble.

Jennifer Celeste
Manager Product & Regulatory Support
Sunoco Inc.