

NEW & SEASONAL RESIDENTS WHERE'S YOUR KI?

If you are a NEW or SEASONAL resident or worker in the towns of East Lyme, Groton City, Groton Town, New London, Old Lyme, Waterford, and portions of Ledyard, Lyme, and Montville, you can obtain potassium iodide (or "KI") tablets at the following locations within the town you reside/work.

In 2002, the state of Connecticut conducted a mailing to all residents in these communities. New or Seasonal residents and people working in these communities are able to obtain one KI tablet per person.

Potassium iodide is an over-the-counter drug that can help protect your thyroid gland from radioactive iodine, one of the potentially harmful emissions that may be released in a nuclear power plant accident. KI is a supplement to the primary protective actions of evacuation and/or sheltering and should only be taken upon direction of State officials.
