Our oysters are harvested from traditional oyster beds, rather than cages. This method results in a much higher quality product, with plump meats within a small, thick, rounded shell, ideally suited to the prestigious half-shell market. All harvesting is carried out under strict State of Connecticut health regulations from State-certified waters to ensure a consistently safe, high-quality product.

Steers are raised on grass and grain finished. We feed a high quality blend of local forages, along with grains including corn, barley, oats, and soybean. All the steers consistently grade choice to prime on the USDA scale.

We believe in grain finishing because it enhances flavor by adding fat to the meat, so our beef tastes great!!! All beef is harvested and processed under USDA inspection then cryo-vacced and flash frozen.
