2013 Farmers' Markets

Connecticut

Certified Farmers' Markets

These are committed to selling only CT Grown farm products. Along with offering the best of local farm products, many of these markets also participate in one or more supplemental food programs.

FMNP - Farmers' Market Nutrition Program

Department of Agriculture serves WIC clients, eligible seniors, and families living in state subsidized housing with FMNP checks. Clients can purchase CT Grown fruits and vegetables at participating farmers' markets. For more information, please visit www.CTGrown.gov/fmnp.

SNAP - Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program

Many farmers markets are now accepting SNAP benefits. This program, formally known as food stamps, is a rapidly expanding program at farmers markets nationwide. For more information contact, CT Dept. of Social Services.

WF&V - WIC Fruit & Vegetable Check Program

Eligible clients can use their WIC fruit and vegetable checks at farmers markets with participating farmers throughout the state. For more information, contact CT Dept. of Public Health - State WIC Program.
