Congratulations on your decision to try transit. You join the thousands of people in Connecticut who ride the buses or trains every day to work, shop, play or go wherever life may take you.

Northwestern Connecticut — the Greater Danbury, Waterbury and Torrington regions — has an excellent public transportation system with local and express bus services and branch line rail services that connect to one of the largest passenger rail systems in the country — the New Haven Line, operated by MTA Metro-North Railroad.

Public transportation in Connecticut is reliable, safe, economical and convenient.

The transit information in this Guide is effective as of September 1, 2004 and is subject to change. Please call the transit operator for updated information before you travel.

How accessible are the buses and trains?

All buses used in Connecticut are accessible for people with disabilities. They have a kneeling feature that lets the driver lower the steps to make it easier for passengers to get on. They also have either a lift platform which lowers to the curb to lift a wheelchair/scooter onto the bus, or on low-floor buses, a ramp which is used to allow easy access. Anyone can request to use the lift, regardless of disability. Lifts are equipped with handrails on two sides.

All train stations along the New Haven Line have ramps to reach the platform for both getting on and off the train. In Northwestern Connecticut, the Danbury and Waterbury Branch Lines feed into the New Haven Line Main Line, which runs along the Connecticut coastline and into New York to Grand Central Terminal. The following New Haven Line stations in Connecticut are ADA-accessible (see page 24 for details of ADA stations): Waterbury, Bridgeport, Danbury, Bethel, Redding, South Norwalk, New Canaan, Stamford, Darien, New Haven and New Haven-State Street.

What are the benefits of using local bus services vs. paratransit van services?

Mandated by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, paratransit van services are provided in all areas with local fixed route bus services for people who can’t use the local bus system due to their disability. For people who are able to use the local bus services (larger buses that run regular schedules on set routes), the following table illustrates some of the benefits.

<td>The cost for a one-way trip is a lot more, from $1.10 - $3.00, depending on where you are traveling to and from.</td>

How to get started

When it comes to using public transportation, you are definitely not alone! Every transit operator has customer service representatives who can answer your questions. Plus, most have schedules and other information available online. Phone numbers and website addresses are listed in each operator’s information section, following this introduction. If you need further help to learn about riding the buses and/or trains, you may want to sign up for Travel Training.

What is Travel Training?

Travel Training is a program that teaches people with disabilities how to use the local bus and rail system properly and safely. Travel Training increases independence, confidence, self-reliance, flexibility and success. The Kennedy Center, one of the largest human services agencies in Connecticut, is responsible for this training using their nationally-recognized program. Since 1991, the Kennedy Center has travel-trained more than 2000 people aged 16 to 95 with cognitive, sensory and physical disabilities.

The program is highly regarded for its thoroughness, flexibility, focus on safety, attention to the “whole person,” and creative, caring staff. There is no cost for the training program. Each participant, however, is required to pay for the bus or train fare when training is taking place. Referrals to the program come from counselors, guardians, family members, community agencies, transit operators and the customers themselves (self-referrals). For more information about the Kennedy Center’s Travel Training Program, visit www.thekennedycenterinc.org or contact the Kennedy Center’s Mobility Services at 1-800-300-8029, ext 247. The Kennedy Center’s Travel Training Program is available throughout most of Connecticut.

Now would be a good time to open the map located in the back flap of the guide. As you can see, in Northwestern Connecticut there are three bus operators: Housatonic Area Regional Transit (HART), CTTRANSIT Waterbury Division and Northwestern Connecticut Transit District.

The railroad — The New Haven Line — has a Main Line that runs along the coast and three branch lines which feed into it — the New Canaan (not shown), Danbury and Waterbury Branch Lines.
How to Read a CTTRANSIT Bus Schedule

Each route has a schedule or timetable that lists when the bus leaves (departs) a bus stop along that route. The timetable contains important information — ride the routes — that is useful when using the service.

For example, if you live in Danbury or Bethel, turn to the section on Housatonic Area Regional Transit. If you don’t know which operator provides bus service in your town or city, please refer to the map.

The following information is provided for each bus operator:

- Landmarks — such as industrial/corporate parks, hospitals, social service agencies, etc. that are within the service area.
- Local bus services — route numbers and a brief description of where the route travels are listed in the key.
- Connecting “Link” routes — connect towns or cities that cross the boundaries of transit operators. The Route 7 Link, from Danbury to Norwalk, allows you to ride the bus from one transit operator’s service area to another, without having to transfer to another bus at a transit “hub” or “center.”

What the map shows for each bus operator:

The service area (color coded) — where local bus service is provided.

- Commuter Connection Bus/Rail services — a shuttle bus that takes commuters from Park & Ride lots to train stations or between certain train stations and places where many people live or work. Commuter Connections operate Monday through Friday during the peak morning and evening commute hours.
- Stations with full and limited ADA access.

How is the transit operator information organized in the guide?

Bus information is organized by transit operator. For example, if you live in Danbury or Bethel, turn to the section on Housatonic Area Regional Transit. If you don’t know which operator provides bus service in your town or city, please refer to the map.

The following information is provided for each bus operator:

- Contact information
- “How to” information — ride the bus, read a schedule, etc.
- Paratransit van information
- Fare information — prices and where to purchase passes, etc. is printed on a separate insert in the back pocket of the guide

JobLinks

JobLinks is an extension of northwest Connecticut’s transportation network offering both new and enhanced bus routes in greater Waterbury, Danbury and Torrington to some of the top industrial and commercial locations in these areas. The program makes it possible for people to get to jobs in areas that are not well served by public transportation. In some areas that have established bus routes, JobLinks has improved the existing services by extending hours and making some routes longer, offering greater flexibility and convenience for people to get to jobs.

JobLinks transportation is available to the general public, including individuals transitioning off welfare and other eligible low-income individuals. JobLinks is more than just buses. Several other services, for those who qualify, are offered to help people get to work. These include: van service to interviews, free gas cards, car repair program, free bus passes, evening reservation and childcare reservation services, plus others.

JobLinks is made possible by funding from the Connecticut Department of Social Services, through the Northwest Regional Workforce Investment Board, and the Federal Transit Administration through the Connecticut Department of Transportation.

How much does it cost to ride the bus?

See HART “FARE INSERT” in back pocket of guide
Riding a HART Bus

- Try to be at the bus stop at least five minutes ahead of the scheduled time.
- Get on the bus through the front door and pay the fare.
- Ask the driver for a transfer, if needed, when you get on or exit the bus. A transfer is needed if you take another bus to get to the place you want to go. Transfers are FREE, good for continuing a one-way trip on the next connecting bus, but can’t be used for your return trip. A transfer must be used within a short time from the time the driver gives it to you.
- Most routes are timed to meet at the Pulse Point (bus hub) for easy transfer to other routes. Several routes are paired and allow for through trips without changing buses. For example, after arriving at the Pulse Point from New Milford, the bus continues to the Danbury Fair Mall. The following HART routes are paired: Routes 7 & 6 (before 9AM and after 3PM — not during midday hours or on Saturday), Routes 4 & 6 (between 9AM and 3PM and on Saturday), Routes 1 & 5 and Routes 3 & 2.
- About one block from your bus stop, pull the cord above the window to signal to the driver to stop and let you off. Get off the bus by the rear door.
- Service animals such as guide dogs can ride on the bus.
How to Read a HART Bus Schedule

A bus schedule for each service is available in print and online and includes the following information:

- route name and number
- a map of the route including points of interest
- departure/arrival times of the bus along that route
- days/hours of operation
- a picture of the bus typically used on the route
- bus fares
- service/contact information

As an example of how to read a schedule, we’ll use the Route 6 timetable. When you open up the schedule, this is what you’ll see. A sample trip is outlined below to help you understand the schedule.

For this trip you want to leave from the Pulse Point and take the bus to the Danbury Fair Mall on a Wednesday. You want to be there at around 11:30 in the morning. Following are the steps you would take to read the schedule and plan your trip:

1. First make sure you are reading the correct schedule. The Route number is printed on the front cover and inside the schedule. Route 6 has different hours of operation for Monday through Friday Service and for Saturday Service. Be sure you are reading the timepoints for Monday through Friday Service and also following the timepoints in the correct direction — from the Danbury Pulse Point to Mall (not Mall to Pulse Point).

2. From the column “Lake Avenue/Pulse Point,” listed as stop #1, read across the top of the schedule and find the stop “Danbury Fair Mall” (which is stop #7).

3. Look down that column and find the time closest to the 11:30AM time you want to get there.

4. There is a bus that will get you to the Mall at 11:22AM — that’s a pretty good fit! Now, look across the top of the schedule again to see where you want to leave from — “Pulse Point.”

5. Simply read across the row (from right to left) from 11:22 to the Pulse Point “Departs” column. You see the time listed as 11:00 in this column. This means that the bus leaves the Pulse Point stop at 11AM.

Plan to be at this stop at least 5 minutes before the departure time listed on the timetable. You should be waiting at the Pulse Point at 10:55AM.

You can read a bus schedule from left to right or right to left. It depends on if you choose to plan your trip by the time you want to get to where you want to go, or the time you want to leave where you are.

Each major stop on the schedule is numbered and indicated on the route map. These are not the only stops the bus will make. You can get on and off the bus at any bus stop sign along the route. When boarding the bus between major stops, use the time at the closest stop before yours to get an idea of when the bus will arrive. A few routes have sections with no bus stop signs. In this case, flag stops are allowed. Make sure to stand in a safe place and wave your arms as the bus approaches. Do not flag a bus on a curve or at an intersection.
Paratransit Van Services — Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)

HART operates SweetHART — a Paratransit/Dial-A-Ride service for seniors, age 60 or older, and persons of any age with disabilities in Danbury, Bethel, Brookfield, New Milford, New Fairfield, Newtown and Ridgefield.

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) provides for priority SweetHART service for persons with disabilities making trips within a specified corridor of Danbury, Bethel, Brookfield and New Milford. If you have a disability that prevents your use of a HART fixed route bus in this corridor, you may be eligible for this service. Availability of ADA SweetHART services are limited to those who cannot, because of their disabilities, get to bus stops or use buses. ADA SweetHART services operate within 3/4 mile of local bus routes and during the same days and hours of operation. To use ADA services, riders must be eligible and certified according to the Americans with Disabilities Act.

How to register to use SweetHART:

You need to complete an eligibility application. Two applications are available: a short form for persons 60 or older and a long form for persons with disabilities. Once you are certified to use the service, you will receive a SweetHART ID card. This card also entitles you to half fare privileges on the HART fixed route system.

You can request a certification form by:

Passengers reserve trips in advance to use SweetHART service by calling HART at 203-748-2511. In the town of New Milford, passengers need to call the New Milford Senior Center at 860-355-6075 to make reservations. Schedules are filled on a first come-first served basis, and they fill up quickly. In general, you can make a reservation one week in advance of the date you want to travel, but no later than 1PM the day before. Reservations for medical trips and ADA-qualifying trips can be made up to two weeks in advance and up until 5PM the day before the trip; same day service is not available.

SweetHART service is available for trips within any one town or between bordering towns. Passengers from any of the seven towns may travel to Danbury as the schedule permits. ADA eligible SweetHART passengers receive scheduling preference over other SweetHART riders for certain trips.

For more specific information about reservations and the days and hours of operation in each town, please contact HART at 203-748-2511.

Plan Your Trip
Before You Ride
the Bus

You should know:

- Your starting address — where you can get on the bus.
- Your destination address — where you want to get off the bus.
- The time you want to leave or when you want to get to the place you want to go.
- The fare and how to pay.

Riding a CTTRANSIT Bus

- Try to be at the bus stop at least five minutes ahead of the scheduled time.
- Get on the bus through the front door and pay the fare.
- About one block from your bus stop, pull the cord located above the side windows to signal to the driver to stop and let you off. A bell will alert the operator to stop and a “stop requested” sign at the front of the bus will light up.
- Ask the driver for a transfer, if needed, when you EXIT the bus. A transfer is needed if you take another bus to get to the place you want to go. Transfers are FREE, good for continuing a one-way trip on the next connecting bus, but can’t be used for your return trip. A transfer must be used within a short time from the time the driver gives it to you.
- Service animals such as guide dogs can ride on the bus.
How to Read a CTTRANSIT Bus Schedule

Each route has a schedule or timetable that lists when the bus leaves (departs) a bus stop along that route. The timetable also notes special places the bus travels to on the route, where to transfer to other bus routes and the days that you can ride the bus.

As an example of how to read a schedule, we’ll use the Route 42 timetable.

The cover of the schedule looks like this. The information includes the route number, route name, destinations served, and date the timetable becomes effective.

When you open up the Route 42 schedule this is what you’ll see. A sample trip is outlined on the next page to help you understand the schedule.
For this trip you want to leave from bus stop #1, Exchange Place, and take the bus to Waterbury Hospital on a Tuesday. You want to be there at around 11:30 in the morning. Here is how you would read the schedule and plan your trip:

1. First make sure you are reading the correct schedule. On the top of the schedule the direction of travel and days of operation are listed. Since you want to travel on a Tuesday you are in good shape, since this route operates Monday through Friday - “Weekday Service.” You will be leaving from Exchange Place, so make sure the bus is traveling from your stop towards the hospital (Downtown to Middlebury).

2. Find “Waterbury Hospital” on the top of the schedule.

3. Look down the column and find the time you are most comfortable with, closest to the 11:30AM time you want to get to the hospital.

4. You could arrive at 11:26 — that’s a pretty good fit! Now, look across the top of the schedule again to see where you want to leave from - “Exchange Place.”

5. Read across the row (left to right) from 11:26 at Waterbury Hospital to the Exchange Place column. You see the time listed as 11:20 in this column. This means that the bus leaves Exchange Place at 11:20AM.

Plan to be at this stop at least 5 minutes before the departure time listed on the timetable. You should be waiting at the bus stop at Exchange Place at 11:15AM.

You can read a bus schedule from left to right or right to left. It depends on if you choose to plan your trip by the time you want to get to where you want to go, or the time you want to leave where you are.

The timepoints listed on the top of the route schedule are not the only places the bus will stop along the route. Bus stops are located every 2-3 blocks along the route. Some stops are marked with an official bus stop sign; other locations have a white band painted on a pole.
Paratransit Van Services — Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)

ADA paratransit is a service for individuals who, because of their disability, are unable to travel by local CTTRANSIT bus. ADA paratransit van services operate within 3/4 mile of local bus routes and during the same days and hours of operation as the local bus routes. To use ADA services, riders must be eligible and certified according to the Americans with Disabilities Act and certified by North East Transportation.

Complementary ADA paratransit van services are provided in the towns of Waterbury, Watertown, Naugatuck, Prospect, Wolcott, Middlebury and Cheshire. Non-ADA paratransit van services are also provided in these towns, as well as Thomaston.

The Candystriper Bus Schedule lists all five local routes in Torrington, Winsted and Litchfield on one schedule. When you open the schedule, one side shows a map with all of the routes and the other side displays the timetable for each route.
How to Read the Candystriper Bus Schedule

You can read the bus schedule from left to right or right to left. It depends on if you choose to plan your trip by the time you want to get to where you want to go, or the time you want to leave where you are. The timepoints listed on the schedule are not the only places the bus will stop along the route. The bus can stop anywhere along the route for pick-up or drop-off. You can stand at any corner along each route and flag down the bus.

When you open up the schedule, this is what you’ll see. A sample trip for Route 4 (East Main Street to East Side) is outlined below to help you understand the schedule.

For this trip you want to leave City Hall in Torrington, and take the bus to Wal-Mart any day of the week (Monday—Friday). You want to be there at around 10:45 in the morning. Following are the steps you would take to read the schedule and plan your trip:

1. First make sure you are reading the correct schedule. The route number is on the right hand side. For this trip you will need Route 4.
2. Find Wal-Mart on the top of the route schedule.
3. Look down the column and find the time you are most comfortable with, closest to the 10:45AM time you want to be at Wal-Mart. You can arrive at 10:30.
4. Look across the top of the schedule again to see where you want to leave from—City Hall.
5. Read across the row (right to left) from 10:30 at Wal-Mart to the City Hall column. You will see the time listed as 10:00 in this column. This means that the bus leaves City Hall at 10AM.

Information about The New Haven Line

The New Haven Line, operated by MTA Metro-North Railroad, consists of the New Haven Main Line and the New Canaan, Danbury and Waterbury Branch Lines. The train line extends 73 miles from Grand Central Terminal (GCT) in New York City to New Haven.

The three Branch Lines feed into stations on the Main Line. Customers on the Waterbury Branch make connections at the Bridgeport train station; Danbury Branch customers connect at the South Norwalk train station and customers on the New Canaan Branch make connections at the Stamford train station.

New Haven Line trains operate seven days a week and on holidays. Service intervals (the time between trains) vary according to destination and time. Weekdays, hours of operation on the Main Line are approximately 4AM to 2AM, with service intervals between 20 and 60 minutes, depending on the time of day. In general, Branch Line trains operate less frequently throughout the day. For specific schedule information, visit www.mta.info or call 1-800-METRO-INFO.

Tickets and Fares

Reduced-Fare Program for People with Disabilities or Senior Citizens (65 or older)

People with qualifying disabilities who have the required identification can travel on the New Haven Line for half fare. Reduced-fare benefits are available for single-ticket purchases at all times except during the morning New York-bound peak (trains scheduled to arrive at Grand Central Terminal New York between 5AM and 10AM on weekdays). There is no reduced-fare program for weekly, 10-trip or monthly tickets since they already represent a significant discount.

To pay a reduced-fare, you must present one of the following forms of identification:

- Medicare card (Medicaid cards not accepted)
- CT elderly/disabled ID card or ADA ID
- Reduced-Fare MetroCard (which need not have any value when used for identification purposes)
- MTA Reduced-Fare ID card (issued prior to 1995)
- New York City Department for the Aging ID card

Paying Your Reduced-Fare

You can purchase a senior/disabled fare ticket at ticket windows, WebTicket online at www.mta.info, ticket machines, or on the trains. Many newer stations have wheelchair-accessible ticket windows. Tickets may be paid for with cash, or credit/debit cards at ticket machines, or with checks at station ticket offices. When paying by check, two forms of photo identification are required with one preferably a driver’s license. The Connecticut Department of Motor Vehicles issues “Non-Driver” photo ID cards.

People with disabilities and seniors who purchase tickets on board the train are not required to pay the higher fare for on-board purchases.

Mail&Ride

Mail&Ride

If you are a daily or frequent commuter, you may want to use the Mail&Ride program to have your monthly New Haven Line ticket mailed automatically to your home. This program does not provide any additional reduced-fare benefits, beyond the regular monthly ticket that costs approximately half the regular peak one-way fare and may be used during peak or off-peak hours for unlimited rides for the calendar month.

Mail&Ride payments can be deducted from your checking account, charged directly to a major credit card, or paid by check, money order, or Transit Chek. Mail&Ride applications are available at station ticket offices or online at www.mta.info. For more information call 1-800-649-NYNY (1-800-649-6969).

- large-print and Braille signs
- audio and visual information systems (visual information systems are in development)
- accessible station booth windows/ Ticket Vending Machines (TVMs), where available
- platform-edge warning strips
- bridge plates to reduce or eliminate the gap between trains and platforms
- telephones at an accessible height with volume control, and text telephones (TTY/TDD). The pay phone is off the platform at the front of the old station at Waterbury.
- accessible restrooms, where restrooms are available
Boarding, Riding and Leaving Trains

To ensure that you have a safe, comfortable, and convenient ride, please follow these guidelines:

- Notify the conductor if you need help boarding the train. Conductors check the platform to identify passengers in need of assistance.

- All fully accessible and newly renovated station platforms have two-foot-wide yellow tactile edge-warning strips. Stay behind these strips until it is time to board the train.

- Customers using wheelchairs waiting for a train should remain at least five feet (if possible) from the platform’s edge and position their wheelchairs with the brakes locked and wheels parallel to the track. It is best to wait in the middle of the platform because cars at either end of the train may be closed during certain times or may not line up with platforms at certain stations. Train cars with dedicated spaces for wheelchairs have a handicapped sticker displayed on the car for identification. Conductors will assist customers in wheelchairs or scooters who would like to board these cars.

- When boarding or leaving a train in a wheelchair, back on and off, so that the larger rear wheels lead. This makes it less likely that the small front wheels will get caught in the gap between the platform edge and the train. Whenever the gap or the difference in height between the train and the station is too large, ask the conductor to set a bridge plate in place to span the gap.

- Many cars on the train have designated seating for individuals with disabilities and senior citizens, as well as special wheelchair areas where the seats fold up to provide adequate floor space. Please station your wheelchair in the special area or position it in the vestibule area with wheels locked.

- Notify the train conductor of your destination if you want to be assisted when you leave the train. If you miss your station, please ask a conductor for assistance in determining an alternate travel plan.

Personal Care Attendants (PCA)

Personal Care Attendants (people employed to assist individuals with disabilities) are eligible to ride the train free when accompanying a passenger with a disability. The PCA must carry identification that shows that he or she is employed by an agency that provides services to people with disabilities.

Service Animals

Customers with disabilities are permitted to bring their service animals into all MTA transit facilities. The animals must be securely leashed for the safety of all customers.

Parking

In Connecticut, parking facilities are primarily operated by local municipalities. For parking information call Metro-North Customer Service at 1-800-METRO-INFO (1-800-638-7646) or visit www.mta.info and click on Metro-North Railroad and select “stations” on the side bar to find out about parking at a particular station.

Service Changes and Emergencies

Information about changes in service is provided over the public address system in rail stations and on the trains. If your train is rerouted from an accessible station, ask your conductor or the person at the ticket booth for assistance in determining an alternate travel plan.

In the event of an emergency, trained railroad personnel and members of the train crew will give you instructions on what to do.

Getting Around In A Private Vehicle

If you are interested in commuting in a private vehicle, the following is information about various public and private organizations and companies that provide:

- driver assessment, evaluation and training,

- and other services for getting around in a private vehicle, such as ridesharing (carpooling and vanpooling).

Driver Assessment, Evaluation and Training

The Connecticut Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV)

The DMV in Wethersfield provides a free driver screening and training program through the Handicapped Driver Training Unit. An inspector evaluates, trains and tests the individual and will even go to his or her home or rehabilitation center.

Vehicle Modifications

You can get information about vehicle modifications from a variety of sources — physicians, public agencies (state and national) and automobile manufacturers.

A physician may be able to recommend the most appropriate equipment for vehicle modifications, or may make a referral to companies or rehabilitative agencies that have had direct experience with vehicle adaptive equipment.

State funds may be granted through the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services (BRS) to qualified applicants to cover the cost of vehicle modification. For individuals who cannot drive, a van can be modified to accommodate a passenger using a wheelchair. The BRS seeks to enhance the self-sufficiency of persons with disabilities and uses only the National Mobility Equipment Dealers Association (NMEDA) Quality Assurance Program for its vehicle modification vendors.

Handicapped Permits/License Plates

A licensed driver with disabilities may apply for a handicapped parking permit, which will allow him or her to park in any handicapped parking space as well as in other areas where it is legal to park. The permit is renewable every two years and can be transferred from one vehicle to another. To obtain a permit, request an application from the Department of Motor Vehicles. The application process, which is free, requires a doctor’s note, and the notarized signature of the person with disabilities.

Anyone holding a valid handicapped parking permit may also apply for a handicapped license plate for a vehicle in his or her name. This license plate enables the driver to obtain service at any Connecticut self-service gasoline pump without leaving the vehicle. The plate is provided free of charge.

Handicapped parking permits and license plates may be revoked if used by someone other than the person to whom they were issued.
