List of Home Inspectors Trained in CT Radon Measurement Protocols

The following list contains the names of home inspectors who have successfully completed the Measuring Radon in Residential Properties training course developed by The University of CT Healthy Environments for Children Initiative in partnership with the Connecticut Department of Public Health's Radon Program. This one-day course was designed to train home inspectors in radon measurement in residential properties by correctly using protocols specified by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and in accordance with Connecticut Department of Public Health policies. This program is not equivalent to a National Radon Measurement Specialist certification.

The CT DPH cannot be responsible for the knowledge or experience of providers of services, nor for their fees or business practices. Inclusion on this list does not constitute an endorsement or a recommendation of the firms. People are encouraged to take normal business precautions before selecting a professional.
