General Instructions:

Each State must provide the information indicated below on its TANF program regardless of the funding source -- i.e., no matter whether the State used segregated Federal TANF funds, segregated State TANF funds, or commingled funds to pay for the benefit or service.

If the State elects to report on other benefits or activities provided through other program funding streams, please mention it after the TANF-funded benefits or activities for each item.

1. The State's definition of each work activity.

Work Activity Definitions, in full, for FFY 2012 are in the TANF Plan FFY 2011-2014 submitted to ACF 12/30/11, Section A Part iii Work Activities. 1. Unsubsidized Employment: Full- or part-time employment in the public or private sector that is not subsidized by TANF or any other public program. 2. Subsidized Private Sector Employment: Employment in the private sector for which the employer receives a subsidy from TANF or other public funds to offset some or all of the wages and costs of employing an individual. 3. Subsidized Public Sector Employment: Employment in the public sector for which the employer receives a subsidy from TANF or other public funds to offset some or all of the wages and costs of employing a recipient. This includes work-study and stipend programs. 4. On-the-Job Training: Training in the public or private sector that is given to a paid employee while he or she is engaged in productive work and that provides knowledge and skills essential to the full and adequate performance of the job. 5. Job Search and Job Readiness Assistance: The act of seeking or obtaining employment, preparation to seek or obtain employment, including life skills training, and short-term substance abuse treatment, mental health treatment, or rehabilitation activities. Such treatment or therapy must be determined to be necessary and documented by a qualified medical, substance abuse or mental health professional. Job search and job readiness assistance activities must be supervised by the TANF agency or other responsible party on an ongoing basis no less frequently than once each day in which the individual is scheduled to participate. This is limited to count toward the WPR for no more than six weeks per year. 6. Work Experience: A work activity performed in return for welfare that provides an individual with an opportunity to acquire the general skills, training, knowledge, and work habits necessary to obtain employment. The purpose of work experience is to improve the employability of those who cannot find unsubsidized employment. 7. Community Service Programs: Structured programs in which TANF recipients perform work for the direct benefit of the community under the auspices of public or nonprofit organizations. Community service programs must be limited to projects that serve a useful community purpose in fields such as health, social service, environmental protection, education, urban and rural redevelopment, welfare, recreation, public facilities, public safety, and childcare. Community service programs are designed to improve the employability of recipients not otherwise able to obtain employment. 8. Vocational Educational Training Not to Exceed 12 Months: Organized educational programs that are directly related to the preparation of individuals for employment in current or emerging occupations requiring training, including a baccalaureate or advanced degree, if in the employment plan. Vocational educational training may include work-focused general education and language instruction. 9. Child Care for an Individual Participating in a Community Service Program- to enable another TANF recipient to participate in community service. 10. Job Skills Training Directly Related to Employment- required by employer to provide ability to obtain employment or to advance or adapt to the changing demands of workplace. 11. Education Directly Related to Employment- related to specific occupation, job or job offer. 12. Satisfactory Attendance at Secondary School or in a GED Program- regular attendance at secondary school or course of study leading to a certificate of general equivalence, for work-eligible individual who has not completed or received secondary school certificate. Some activities must be supervised on an ongoing basis no less frequently than once each day in which the individual is scheduled to participate.

2. A description of the transitional services provided to families no longer receiving assistance due to employment.

a). Post-TFA Jobs First Employment Services Jobs First Employment Services are available to families engaged in such activities at the time they become ineligible for Temporary Family Assistance, the State's TANF cash assistance program. Employment services may be provided until completion of the employment services activity. Such services include, but are not limited to the following: case management, barrier resolution, employment related education and training, job search skill training, job placement services, support services, retention services, and re-employment services. b). Transitional Child Care Families that exit Temporary Family Assistance are also eligible for Transitional Child Care, a CCDF-based component of the State's Child Care Assistance Program. Such families remain eligible for Transitional Child Care as long as their income remains below income limit.

3. A description of how a State will reduce the amount of assistance payable to a family when an individual refuses to engage in work without good cause pursuant to 45 CFR 261.14 of this chapter.

Non-exempt individuals (other than minor parents), who refuse or otherwise fail to engage in work without good cause, subject the family receiving Temporary Family Assistance (TFA) benefits to progressively larger reductions in cash benefits payable. Such refusal or failure to engage in work includes failure to satisfactorily engage in work activities specified in employment plans, voluntary quits of employment, and terminations from employment due to willful misconduct. Reductions in benefits for families who have not yet reached the program's 21-month time limit are applied as follows: 1) a reduction of 25 percent for three months for the first offense; 2) a reduction of 35 percent for three months for the second offense; 3) for the third and any subsequent offenses, discontinuance of the family's assistance and ineligibility for at least three months. For non-exempt individuals who comprise entire assistance units (assistance units of one) such as pregnant women with no other children), benefits are discontinued entirely for at least three months irrespective of the offense number. For families receiving benefits under extension provisions (i.e., beyond the program's 21-month time limit), the penalty for refusal or failure to engage in work is discontinuance and ineligibility for any future extensions based on good faith effort to obtain and retain employment. Individuals who are exempt from employment services do not subject the family to the penalties described above. Such individuals include: children under 18, unless the child is a minor parent not in school; an individual who is incapacitated or of advanced age; an individual who is needed in the home because of the incapacity of another member of the household; an individual caring for a child under one year of age, if such child is not a child covered by the family benefit cap provision; a pregnant woman if the physician has indicated that she is unable to work; a woman in a six-week post-pregnancy period; an individual who is otherwise determined to be unemployable under state policies. A 25% reduction represents the minimum pro rata share for any assistance unit with more than one member in any three of the State's payment regions.

4. The average monthly number of payments for child care services made by the State through the use of disregards, by the following types of child care providers:

i. Licensed/regulated in-home child care: 0

ii. Licensed/regulated family child care: 0

iii. Licensed/regulated group home child care: 0

iv. Licensed/regulated center-based child care: 0

v. Legally operating (i.e., no license category available in State or locality) in-home child care provided by a non-relative: 0

vi. Legally operating (i.e., no license category available in State or locality) in-home child care provided by a relative: 0

vii. Legally operating (i.e., no license category available in State or locality) family child care provided by a non-relative: 0 viii. Legally operating (i.e., no license category available in State or locality) family child care provided by a relative: 0

ix. Legally operating (i.e., no license category available in State or locality) group child care provided by a non-relative: 0

xi. Legally operated (i.e., no license category available in State or locality) center-based child care. 0

5. If the State has adopted the Family Violence Option and wants Federal recognition of its good cause domestic violence waivers under 45 CFR 260.50-58, then provide (a) a description of the strategies and procedures in place to ensure that victims of domestic violence receive appropriate alternative services and (b) an aggregate figure for the total number of good cause domestic waivers granted.

Not Applicable: Connecticut has not adopted the Family Violence Option.

6. A description of any nonrecurrent, short-term benefits (as defined in 45 CFR 260.31(b)(1)) provided, including:

i. The eligibility criteria associated with such benefits, including any restrictions on the amount, duration, or frequency of payments;

ii. Any policies that limit such payments to families that are eligible for TANF assistance or that have the effect of delaying or suspending a family's eligibility for assistance;

iii. Any procedures or activities developed under the TANF program to ensure that individuals diverted from assistance receive information about, referrals to, or access to other program benefits (such as Medicaid and food stamps) that might help them make the transition from welfare to work.

a) Diversion Program: Connecticut operates a Diversion Program to help families remain self-sufficient rather than become dependent on monthly cash assistance. The goal of the program is to provide families with the assistance they need in lump sum payments that remove barriers to employment and self sufficiency. (i.) Eligibility Criteria: Payments are limited to families who are likely to succeed with short term help. Program candidates must be employed or have a job offer, have a solid work history, marketable skills, and barriers that can be removed within a three month period if given Diversion assistance. The financial eligibility criteria for Diversion are identical to those for Temporary Family Assistance (TFA), which are described in Section A, Part I (A) of Connecticut's TANF State Plan. Families are eligible to receive payments to cover current and anticipated needs, up to three times the amount that they would have received under TFA. (ii.) Effect on TANF Cash Assistance Eligibility: Families may be eligible for Diversion for up to three months. If a family would be subject to the TFA time-limit, up to three months of time limit are recorded under Diversion. Receipt of Diversion payments makes a family ineligible for TFA for three months, unless the family experiences undue hardship- if family's circumstances constitute a serious threat to the health, safety or welfare of the family, and are a result of forces outside the family's control, and the circumstances prevent the family from maintaining or getting a job. (iii.) Access to Other Program Benefits: Diversion families are served by DSS staff who explore eligibility for Medicaid, the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), and other programs. Including Transitional Child Care (TCC) benefits. b) NRST Benefit and TANF ECF programs- please refer to the TANF Plan FFY 2011-2014 submitted to ACF 12/30/11 for more detailed description of programs. NRST Benefit program serving families in four months or less, and address a short-term crisis or episode of need. The TANF ECF programs that extended into FFY 2012 are as follows. 1) Juvenile Intervention Services – Judicial Branch Court Support Services Division, Juvenile Intervention Services targets boys and girls with involvement in the juvenile justice system and provide respite care for both boys and girls (housed separately) to provide crisis intervention; intervention and risk assessment services; family service needs and assessments; school violence prevention. Program(s): Girls Center for Assessment Respite and Enrichment; Boys Center for Assessment Respite and Enrichment; Family Support Center (FSC); Juvenile Risk Reduction Center-Youth Equipped for Success.

7. A description of the grievance procedures the State has established and is maintaining to resolve displacement complaints, pursuant to section 407(f)(3) of the Social Security Act. This description must include the name of the State agency with the lead responsibility for administering this provision and explanations of how the State has notified the public about these procedures and how an individual can register a complaint. Delivery of TANF employment services is administered by the Connecticut Department of Labor. In this capacity the Department of Labor contracts with the state's five regional Workforce Investment Boards, who in turn contract with local organizations to provide employment services to recipients of ongoing TANF cash assistance (Temporary Family Assistance). The specific terms of the Labor Department's contracts with the several Workforce Investment Boards requires said boards to administer services in accordance with all applicable federal and state laws, including section 407 (f) of the Social Security Act. Contract language also prohibits the contractors and their subcontractors from placing TANF recipients into jobs from which their employees have been laid off and maintain recall rights, and also prohibits termination of employment in order to hire TANF recipients. The Department of Labor has instructed the Workforce Investment Boards to use complaint resolution procedures established under their Workforce Investment Act (WIA) implementation plans to resolve displacement complaints brought by TANF participants. (The public was given an opportunity to comment on such implementation plans.) Each board must maintain these complaint resolution procedures, which stipulate how individuals can register complaints in each Workforce Investment Board region. TANF/TFA recipients also have access to a State administered appeals process through Hearing Officers, and if unsatisfactory to the recipient, they may then request reconsideration or appeal to the Courts.

State Connecticut	Fiscal Year 2012

Program Information

Provide the following information for EACH PROGRAM (according to the nature of the benefit or service provided) for which the State claims MOE expenditures. Complete and submit this report in accordance with the attached instructions.

1. Name of Benefit or Service Program:

Temporary Family Assistance (TFA)

2. Description of the Major Program Benefits, Services, and Activities:

Temporary Family Assistance (TFA) is an employment focused, time limited assistance program that provides families with monthly cash assistance for ongoing needs such as food, shelter, and clothing. The program design is based on the assumption that welfare should be a temporary program of assistance, and it is better to work than to be on welfare. Recipients are encouraged to assume personal responsibility for their economic self-sufficiency. The program may be applicable to any of the four statutory purposes of TANF. In FFY 2012 the Two Parent Temporary Family Assistance and Certain Exempt Temporary Family Assistance programs were funded as Solely State Funded programs as they are no longer part of the TANF program or claimed as separate state program(s). The expenditures for FFY for these SSF programs are included in Total State Expenditures (#6 below). Two-Parent TFA cases are those with two parents as defined at 45 CFR 261.24. The Certain Exempt TFA is provided to certain exempt categories of TFA families in which all adults are exempt from time limits and work requirements because they are either medically incapacitated, pregnant or postpartum and unable to work, age 60 or older, or unemployable. TFA benefit levels vary throughout the state based on the average cost of rent in each area. There are three regions in the state each with a different benefit level.

3. Purpose(s) of Benefit or Service Program:

Temporary Family Assistance Program provides assistance to needy families so that children may be cared for in their homes or in the homes of relatives.

6. Total State Expenditures for the Program for the Fiscal Year: $97,281,303

7. Total State MOE Expenditures under the Program for the Fiscal Year: $72,833,622

8. Total Number of Families Served under the Program with MOE Funds: 15,156

This last figure represents (Check one):

The average monthly total for the fiscal year. The total served over the fiscal year.

9. Financial Eligibility Criteria for Receiving MOE-funded Program Benefits or Services:

To qualify the countable income of the family must be less than the applicable TFA payment standard based on family size and the rent region of the state. The payment standards are in the range of 32% to 46% of the federal poverty levels in FFY12, depending on the rent region. Unless they meet exemption criteria, adult TFA recipients are required to seek and retain employment if it is available. Recipients unable to secure employment without assistance receive services, including education and training, that are designed to assist them in becoming employed. The TFA program attempts to direct participants to employment sufficient to be independent of assistance within twenty-one months. The program contains many features that support this objective. The asset limit is $3,000. Families are allowed to own a reliable car to seek employment, to travel to and from work, or to transport a disabled family member. To be excluded, the family's equity in the vehicle must not exceed $9,500 or the vehicle must be used to transport a disabled family member. Earned income of recipients is totally excluded up to the Federal Poverty Level (FPL). Once earnings reach the FPL, the family becomes ineligible for assistance. The first $50 in monthly child support payments is disregarded. Child care and transportation benefits are provided as needed. If a family member refuses to participate in Employment Services activities the family is penalized through grant reduction. If the family has made a good faith effort to comply with the employment activities but still has income below the payment standard at the end of twenty-one months of assistance, a six-month extension of benefits may be granted. Extensions may also be given to families who have encountered circumstances beyond their control such as domestic violence. Up to two extensions may be granted in accordance with the above criteria. For third or subsequent extensions, each adult must also either have two or more substantiated barriers to employment, or be working thirty-five or more hours per week at or above minimum wage, or be working fewer than thirty-five hours per week due to a medical problem or the need to care for a disabled household member, or precluded from working because of domestic violence. A 60-month time limit also applies. The 60-month limit can only be exceeded if a domestic violence hardship exists, or if the family is exempt, as described below. If each adult in the family meets at least one of the following exemption criteria, the family is not subject to the time limit: medical incapacitation; age 60 or older; responsible for the care of an incapacitated family member; non-parent caretaker relative who does not receive assistance; caring for a child under the age of one who is not subject to the family cap; pregnant if a physician has certified that she is unable to work; in a 6-week post-pregnancy period, or determined to be unemployable. Minor parents attending and satisfactorily completing high school or high school equivalency programs and their children are exempt from the time limit. Other features of the TFA program may be found in the TANF Plan 2012-2014.

Attachment B 5. Jobs First Employment Services Grantee Information

------------------	-----------------

Program Information

Provide the following information for EACH PROGRAM (according to the nature of the benefit or service provided) for which the State claims MOE expenditures. Complete and submit this report in accordance with the attached instructions.
1. Name of Benefit or Service Program: Jobs First Employment Services
2. Description of the Major Program Benefits, Services, and Activities: The State provides employment services to recipients and applicants of Temporary Family Assistance (TFA). Employment services are also provided to those who are participating in an employment service activity authorized by their employment plan at the time of becoming ineligible for TFA until they complete that activity. The state refers to these employment services as Jobs First Employment Services. The Connecticut Department of Labor (DOL) administers Jobs First Employment Services through CT Works. CT Works is a partnership of the CT Department of Labor, the Regional Workforce Investment Boards, and other state and local agencies, including the Department of Social Services. The goals of the Jobs First Employment Services program are as follows: 1) Enable TFA participants, through employment, to become independent from cash assistance by the end of the 21-month time limit established by state law; 2) Enable TFA participants who become independent from cash assistance to remain employed and independent of TFA; and 3) Ensure that federally established participation rates are met through employment of TFA participants and engagement in other countable TANF work activities deemed appropriate based on assessments of clients' needs. To attain all three program goals, Jobs First Employment Services include a combination of job search, employment, education, training and support services. The combination of services varies with each individual participant. This balance of employment activity with other services utilizes individual strengths and resources while addressing employment-related needs. This balanced work first approach ensures that participants will not only become independent, but will remain independent from assistance while the federal participation rates are met. Each participant, including volunteers, may receive employment services that include, but are not limited to the following: orientation, assessment, case management, employment plan development, barrier resolution, employment related education and training programs, job search skill training, job placement services, case management, support services (such as Special Benefits), retention services, and re-employment services. Participants who are having difficulty may be provided with contracted retention and intensive support services, including in-depth assessment, identification of participation barriers, and referrals to resources to overcome barriers in order to retain employment and/or successfully complete program activities. To facilitate maximum participation, Employment Services participants are supported by special benefit payments. Transportation benefits are provided to participants of regular, on-going employment services activities other than unsubsidized employment. Payment is made for bus fares or mileage for driving private automobiles. A participation allowance which is intended to assist participants with transportation and baby-sitting expenses is provided for short-term, intermittent employment services activities that last no longer than five consecutive days.
