

By His Excellency Dannel P. Malloy, Governor: an Official Statement

WHEREAS, Geography Awareness Week, November 13 – 19, 2011, encourages geographic awareness in schools; and

WHEREAS, Geographic Information Systems Day (GIS) helps to raise geography awareness; and

WHEREAS, in 2011, GIS Day will be celebrated in more than 80 countries around the world; and

WHEREAS, GIS applications provide critical support for public and private organizations who use this essential technology to perform their work in public health, disaster response, environmental assessment, business efficiency, infrastructure management and education; and

WHEREAS, the State of Connecticut Geospatial Information Systems Council works to enable the development of a coordinated GIS capacity across the State; and

WHEREAS, having a day of GIS activities open to students, citizens, and government leaders will help achieve greater awareness of the benefits of GIS; now

THEREFORE, I, Dannel P. Malloy, Governor of the State of Connecticut, do hereby proclaim November 17, 2011, as in the State of Connecticut.

Geographic Information Systems Day
