I do not have the details that Susan Israel has, but I most emphatically share her pain about our laws that will open up our medical records to just about anyone. Everyone is VERY worried about privacy in general (I have not, nor ever will join any of the social networks) but our medical records are the most private records of all.

PLEASE, PLEASE, change the laws to make each individual responsible for their own privacy. The present plan makes no sense at all, and I do believe that most people are completely unaware of what is in store for them.
