FS E&T Reimbursement Program

Background

- Food Stamp Employment and Training Program created by 1985 Food Security Act
- Purpose is to help FS recipients not receiving TANF to gain work skills and become employed
- Allowable activities include job search/job readiness, training, education and work experience
FS E&T Reimbursement Program

Background

- Two Types of Funding under FS E&T in Connecticut
- 100% Federal Funding – Each state allocated a portion based on number of Able-Bodied Adults Without Dependents (ABAWDs) in state’s program
- Connecticut receiving $557,000 in 100% funds for FFY 09
- CT has operated program for years – has four contactors serving Hartford, New Haven, Bridgeport and Stamford-Norwalk areas
FS E&T Reimbursement Program

Background

- 50% Reimbursement Program
- State reimbursed 50% of non-federal, non-matching funds expended on eligible employment and training activities for FS recipients who do not receive TFA
- Connecticut expended a small amount from FS Training Expense line item of approximately $25,000 for work expenses not eligible under 100% rules
FS E&T Reimbursement Program
Expanded Use in Connecticut

- In late 2006 representatives of Casey Foundation began promoting expanded use of 50% reimbursement program using existing funding streams supporting E&T for FS recipients besides DSS appropriation.
- DSS began discussions with Capital Community College regarding a pilot program.
- Community College expenditures on workforce training programs would be used to qualify for 50% reimbursement.
FS E&T Reimbursement Program Expanded Use in Connecticut

Types of workforce training programs include:

- Certified Nurse Aid
- Patient Care Technician
- Customer Service/Retail
- Hospitality Management
- Manufacturing Basic Training
- Medical Office Management
- Small Business Management
FS E&T Reimbursement Program
Expanded Use in Connecticut

- Computer Match of current students identified about 200 FS recipients participating in these programs
- CCC identified total annual expenditures on these students of approximately $870,000
- This upfront expenditure by the college qualifies for $435,000 in FS E&T reimbursement
FS E&T Reimbursement Program
Expanded Use in Connecticut

- In July 2008 DSS entered in Memorandum of Agreement to provide up to $435,000 in FS E&T reimbursement annually to Capital Community College

- In addition to training CCC providing support programs, including Work Readiness Training, Workplace ESOL, Life Skills/Financial Literacy, Career Planning, Pre and Post academic and workplace readiness skills assessments, Career Interest assessments, academic counseling, group and individual tutoring, career development center
FS E&T Reimbursement Program

Expanded Use in Connecticut

- Capital Community College will use 50% reimbursement funds to provide scholarships to reduce cost of tuition for FS recipients.
- Not only will this make workforce training more accessible for FS recipients, it creates an incentive for students to enroll in FS to receive scholarship funds.
- DSS is retaining 5% of reimbursements funds for our administrative costs.
- FERPA requires release from student – affects data match process to identify who are FS recipients.
