

CREATE THE OFFENSE OF CYBERSTALKING
HOUSE BILL NO. 6357

The act of cyberstalking is a relatively new matter. However, as a victim of cyberstalking, I believe that it is a serious issue and one that needs to become a criminal offense. The availability of computers and online services is rapidly increasing, providing another way in which crime victims are harassed and threatened. Cyberstalking is used as form of control over crime victims. Stalking is also intended to intimidate and/or scare a victim. Cyberstalking is a terrifying experience and can cause psychological trauma, along with the possibility of physical harm. It is the duty of Connecticut lawmakers to take the necessary steps to protect crime victims from the growing threat of cyberstalking.
