

APRIL SEXUAL ASSAULT AWARENESS MONTH

Rape, sexual assault and sexual harassment impact individuals in communities across the nation. In the United States, April marks Sexual Assault Awareness Month (SAAM). Each year the SAAM campaign seeks to raise awareness about sexual violence and educate people throughout the country on the many ways we can help prevent it. This year's SAAM campaign is focused on healthy sexuality and young people, and there are a number of events taking place in communities throughout Connecticut.

The Office of the Victim Advocate encourages Connecticut residents to attend events happening in their area. Only through education, awareness and community involvement will we be better equipped to help prevent these acts of violence. For a full list of events taking place this month, please visit the Connecticut Sexual Assault Crisis Services' (CONNSACS) website, or click here.
