STATE ELECTIONS ENFORCEMENT COMMISSION ANNOUNCES TWENTY-THIRD PUBLIC GRANTS OF SEASON

HARTFORD, CT – October 19, 2016 – The State Elections Enforcement Commission (the “Commission”) announced that it will make its twenty-third public grant payments under the Citizens’ Election Program (the “CEP”) for the November 8, 2016 general election. The Commission determined that state representative candidates Angel Arce (D – 4th District), Larry Butler (D – 72nd District), Juan Candelaria (D – 95th District), Mary Ellen Dahlgren (D – 35th District), John Frey (R – 111th District), Stephen Gifford (D – 87th District), Joseph Gresko (D – 121st District), Tracey Hanson (D – 45th District), Mike Hurley (R – 28th District), Matthew Lesser (D – 100th District), Emmett Riley (D – 46th District), James Sanders (R – 24th District), Hilda Santiago (D – 84th District), Joseph Serra (D – 33rd District), Bonnie Troy (D – 135th District) and Raymond Work (R – 75th District) were eligible to receive Program grants. The Commission also determined that state senate candidates Kevin Kelly (R – 21st District), Patricia Libero (R – 14th District), Martin Looney (D – 11th District), and David Pena (D – 8th District) were eligible to receive Program grants.

The CEP is a voluntary program which allows qualifying candidates for General Assembly and statewide offices to receive full public financing. To qualify for public campaign financing, candidates must demonstrate they have substantial support from the public. Candidates for state representative accomplish this by raising $5,000 from at least 150 individuals residing in municipalities in their district. Candidates for state senate accomplish this by raising $15,000 from at least 300 individuals residing in municipalities in their district. Participating candidates may only accept small dollar contributions from certain individuals—the maximum contribution is $100—and no contributions from state contractors or PACs. In 2016, general election grant amounts are $28,150 for state representative candidates and $95,710 for state senate candidates. The Commission will be accepting grant applications from candidates until October 14th.

Since it was enacted, the CEP has considerably altered the electoral process. The CEP set off a sweeping change in the way candidates raise campaign funds by reducing the influence of large contributions and shifting the goals of campaign fundraising towards small dollar contributions from actual people, rather than special interests. Candidates no longer require access to personal wealth or the support of special interests, like state contractors, businesses, unions or PACs. Today, Connecticut candidates can mount successful campaigns solely relying on the support of individuals in their community. Now in its fifth full election cycle, the CEP represents an important effort to restore the public’s trust in the institutions of democratic governance.
