PRESS RELEASE

On October 21, 1996, Ethics Commission Principal Attorney Brenda M. Bergeron filed a Complaint (Docket Number 96-4) against Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company ("3-M"), alleging that in 1995, 3-M gave two state employees gifts in excess of the $50.00 annual limit and failed to report at least two expenditures over $10.00 for the benefit of a public official or staff member in that year. This Complaint was the second complaint against 3-M in a year. The first complaint, filed in March of 1995, was settled in July of 1995 when 3-M paid a $20,000 fine for similar violations. The violations alleged in the second complaint took place after the settlement of the first complaint.

On May 2, 1997, the Ethics Commission and 3-M settled this second Complaint by entering into a Stipulation and Order. Under the settlement, 3-M agrees to pay the maximum fine of $8000 and to establish certain procedures to safeguard against any recurrence of these violations, including ongoing ethics training and the establishment of a system of tracking and reporting expenditures for the benefit of Connecticut employees and public officials.

On May 2nd, the Commission also entered into a Stipulation and Order with Dean McLear, a manager at the Department of Transportation, Bureau of Highway Operations. The Stipulation settles a Complaint dated October 21, 1996, which alleged that Mr. McLear accepted rounds of golf and a baseball ticket totalling over $100 from 3M in 1995. Under the settlement, the Ethics Commission found that Mr. McLear violated the Code of Ethics as alleged, and Mr. McLear agreed to pay a $500 civil penalty. On March 7, 1997, the Ethics Commission entered into a similar Stipulation with James F. Sullivan of the Department of Transportation. Mr. Sullivan was also fined $500.

Copies of the Stipulation and Orders and the Complaints are attached.
