III. Administrative Reports

Executive Director Brandi updated the commission on how the staff is closely watching the state budget and its inevitable impact on the agency. Mr. Brandi is having meetings with legislators to explain how the SEEC has already handled a series of budget cuts. The staff has implemented LEAN principles, made processes electronic and trained to serve the Commission in multiple capacities. The staffing and budget have been cut as far as the SEEC could possibly manage.

For personnel, the SEEC has 2 vacancies, but there has been no movement at the Office of Policy and Management to fulfill requests to post for exams or for the openings.

Executive Director Brandi also attended an Editorial Board meeting with the leaders of State Ethics and the Freedom of Information Commission at the New Haven Register.

For the 2016 election cycle, the SEEC has 157 Candidate Committees registered and 65 have already declared that they intend to participate in the Citizens' Election Program.

The staff are also closely monitoring the 2016 Legislative Session. The staff submitted proposals which address the coordinated spender language, require electronic filing, and creates a study to include candidates for Judge of Probate in the Citizens' Election Program. All 3 of these proposals, as well as potential changes to agency structure and authority have been included in bills that may eventually go before the House or Senate.

There have been 21 applications from towns and cities to participate in the Municipal Pilot Program, with one still waiting for the local governing body's approval. The applicants provide a diverse collection of large cities to small towns, all with varying types of local government. The commission staff is pleased to recommend these 20 municipalities to participate in the Commission's Pilot Program for Municipal Campaign Finance Filings for the 2017 election cycle: Cheshire, Colchester, East Haddam, East Haven, Hamden, Killingworth, Manchester, Meriden, Middletown, Monroe, New Britain, New Hartford, Norwich, Pomfret, Scotland, Simsbury, Stonington, Trumbull, West Hartford, and Westport. The Town of Durham shall serve as an alternate pending legislative body approval.

It was moved by Commissioner Penny and seconded by Commissioner Bramante to approve the 20 towns, plus the 21st as an alternate, to participate in the 2017 Municipal Pilot Program. So approved by a 4-0-0 vote.
